New facts of the Volturmo's disaster brought in the first complete story told to the United Press by the survivors aboard La Touraine at Havre. The Volturmo had only nine lifeboats that were fit for use. All of them apparently were rotten and not in condition for launching. The crew seemed ignorant of their use and passengers helped drag six of them over the side. One of those that was smashed, was lowered with a hole in its bottom. The fire apparently smoldered for hours before it was discovered. No explosion occurred until hours after the fire had burned fiercely. Four, and perhaps more, of the crew smothered in the fore-cabin by smoke before the fire was discovered. Members of the crew saw no forward and denied that Captain Inch used his pistol to keep the fire fighters at work. No confusion and panic was noticed among passengers or crew. Women and children, according to the crew were the last to be taken off the Volturmo because many men leaped overboard during the night and few waited for the lifeboats of the rescue fleet. Ten little babies, all separated from their parents, were rescued by La Touraine and cared for by women in the first class cabins.

(Paris Correspondent United Press.)
HAVRE, France, Oct. 14.—The Volturmo had but nine available lifeboats when the ship caught fire, according to Frederick Dade, a German soldier, who was a passenger on the ill fated liner. He was among the 42 Volturmo survivors who arrived today aboard the French liner La Touraine, the second of the rescue squadron to reach port. "The Volturmo had only nine lifeboats that I could see," Radke said positively. "There may have been others, but I did not see them. The ones I saw were old and rotten. They broke like eggshells when they struck the sides of the rolling steam-ship." "Two boats are said to have got away. I saw four smashed, drowning all the occupants. Somebody, I believe it was the captain, then cut the others from their davits, seeing that they were destroying lives, rather than saving them." "The tackle of all the boats was so tangled that they were lowered with difficulty. The crew did not seem to know anything about them and the passengers had to help lug the cumbersome things over the side. All of us would certainly have been drowned had not other ships come to the rescue. The Volturmo's crew did not save a single passenger."

MRS. HENRY ROBBINS RESPONDS

Madison Lady Praises La Crosse Chapter for Its Hospitality

The seventeenth annual state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Wisconsin opened this morning at 9 o'clock in the Public Library hall. Sixty-four delegates from all over the state were present, and a number more are expected to arrive later in the day. The conference will close tomorrow afternoon with an automobile ride through the city. Following the singing of America and a prayer by State Chaplain Mrs. Hardy, an address of welcome to the visiting delegates was made by Mrs. George W. Burton, regent. Mrs. Burton's address follows:

"It is my proud duty and privilege to welcome you to La Crosse, and to this seventeenth annual congress of the state society. I assure you that it is a real pleasure to the ladies of La Crosse to have an opportunity to entertain this goodly company; and when we realize what you stand for and represent, we are indeed honored by your presence in our midst. "My only purpose is to try to convince you that all the daughters of La Crosse are delighted to be your hostesses, and that our hearts and homes are open to you all. "We sincerely trust that we will so acquit ourselves that this occasion may remain with you as a pleasant memory."

A response to Mrs. Burton's address was made by Mrs. Harry B. Robbins. In a short address she praised the hospitality of the La Crosse women in receiving the delegates. She dwelt on the good that the 100,000 Daughters throughout the United States stood for.

Reports of the state regent, the state secretary and the state treasurer were then read. The report of Old Trails Road by Mrs. W. W. Mitchell was extremely interesting. The morning session was ended with the singing of "Star of Wisconsin," led by Mrs. R. C. Whelpley.

Mrs. Waldo Sweet of Fond du Lac, who was to have made the report of the state director, was absent, due to the marriage of her daughter. Mrs. Henry J. Danforth of Milwaukee, who was on the program to read the state chairman's report, was absent also on account of illness.

An interesting program was prepared for this afternoon's session. Following are the list of delegates from out of the city attending:

From Milwaukee—Mesdames J. W. Laffin, Edward Ferguson, H. L. Cook, R. B. Hartman, John MacMillan, Ellis B. Usher, J. P. Humes, J. F. Trotman and Miss Mary Atwood. Marshfield—Mesdames Lathrop, A. E. Beebe, W. T. Poole, E. C. Pors, H. E. Anderson. Madison—Mesdames Edward Van Ostrand, State Regent F. W. Hoyt, Henry Robbins, T. H. Brittingham, Oakley and Miss Helen Kellogg. Kenosha—Mesdames R. E. Mailer, O. S. Trenary, S. C. Newman and Miss Jennie Dexter. Janesville—Mesdames F. C. Grant, Rexford, S. M. Smith. Grand Rapids—Mesdames McKernum, I. P. Wilters. Fort Atkinson—Miss Carrie M. Smith, state secretary, Mrs. Ogden and Mrs. Perry. Antigo—Mesdames J. D. Steffen, R. Kockbe and C. W. Magee. Elkhorn—Mrs. R. W. Isham. Oshkosh—Mrs. C. P. Burdick. Mrs. Eugenia Sturtevant. Portage—Mesdames Chester Smith, Frederick Hettinger. Racine—Mrs. W. H. Crosby, vice general regent, Mrs. John Sogard. Reedsburg—Mesdames I. F. Thompson, Perry, M. T. Gill, W. C. Ramsey. Stevens Point—Mesdames N. A. Week, W. W. Mitchell, Miss Ruth Cate. Sheboygan—Mesdames W. B. Hawkins, Mrs. J. D. Young. Plymouth—Mesdames C. D. Eastman, George Robbins. Tomah—Mrs. Frank Hart. Waukesha—Miss Martha E. Walton, Miss Gertrude Cass.

CARDIF, Wales, Oct. 14.—It was agreed that the death list in the great Universal colliery disaster today might be upwards of five hundred when the rescue work was abandoned at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The official count showed that 931 men went into the mine today before the terrific explosion that wrecked the mouth of the shaft and destroyed the machinery.

Rescuers brought up between 375 and 400. The bodies were recovered up to late this afternoon. This leaves at least 531 men in the tunnels and even if they were still alive their rescue was extremely doubtful. Figures show that 931 men descended to work before the explosion. At 3 p. m., 371 men had been rescued. Most of them were badly burned, some of them fatally and the death list probably will go to 200.

It is estimated that 550 men were still alive in the mine and hopes of their rescue were entertained, although the hazard was great. Ten bodies have been recovered. Several miners at the top of the Universal shaft were killed by the force of the explosion, which was one of the worst in the mining history of Wales. The head of one man was blown off his shoulders as he stood twenty feet from the mine opening. At 1 p. m., the rescuers said there were 350 men in the mine unaccounted for. Many of them were believed to be alive, but it was thought certain that the death list would be considerably over 150.

Latest reports, unconfirmed, said that 900 men were in the colliery when the explosion occurred, and that 500 miners were still entombed most of them probably dead. Only six bodies have been recovered. Nearly all of the miners rescued from the Universal were injured, some of them fatally burned. It is believed the death list will total more than 200.

At 5 p. m. it was conceded by mine officials that 418 miners in the west galleries, probably were doomed to death. The fire that followed the explosion had spread then to the intake air shaft, cutting off the entombed survivors from fresh air. At that hour all of the living miners had been taken safely from the east side of the Universal mine.

WARRANTS ARE ISSUED

Warrants were issued today charging Charles Williams and Walter Johnson with grand larceny. They are alleged to have stolen a roll of bills from Russell Bell, a farm hand.

CHANCES FINE TO LAND BIG SCHOOL

N. M. Scott Writes that Favor Is Growing for Location of the German Reformed Seminary Here

CLEVER ARGUMENT GETS VOTE

Tells Delegates Question Is Whether or Not School Will Be Benefited by Coming Here

La Crosse's chances to land the seminary of the German Reformed church are excellent, according to word received in La Crosse today by A. Rose, of the Scott-Rose Co., from N. M. Scott. Mr. Scott is attending the meeting of the Northwest Synod in session at Lafayette, Ind., and is there as the representative of the La Crosse Board of Trade instructed to do everything possible to secure the institution for this city. According to Mr. Scott's letter, the synod has elected, as a delegate to the meeting which will ultimately decide the location of the school, a man who is an avowed "booster" for this city. The vote of the entire Northwest Synod, writes Mr. Scott, will not be taken until today. Displays Diplomacy Mr. Scott displayed diplomacy in the method he secured for landing the institution. Arriving at Lafayette, he was surprised to find the synod in factions and the chances of La Crosse by no means the brightest. He writes that it was a foregone conclusion among certain delegates to the convention that La Crosse's chances were small. Mr. Scott, in discussing the matter asked if the city would have any chance if the La Crosse Board of Trade were to offer $18,000 in money and the site. He received an affirmative answer but it was not over enthusiastic. Mr. Scott then adopted a different method of procedure and asked a hearing before the entire meeting. "It's no use," said the candidate for the board meeting which will settle the fate, and who is in favor of La Crosse, "nothing on earth can change them. I will be defeated."

Money Shouldn't Count Mr. Scott appeared and in his argument for La Crosse never mentioned site or bonus. Instead he told the meeting that La Crosse wanted the institution because they thought it would be an important addition to the city's educational institution. He told of the ideal conditions surrounding the city and explained how La Crosse stands far above other Wisconsin cities as an educational center. "If the school won't be benefited by coming to La Crosse," said Mr. Scott, "a money donation should not be considered."

The result was that the meeting elected the La Crosse delegate to the board meeting, and in all probability the entire synod will go on record in favor of La Crosse. If this occurs the city will land the school as two of the other synods—the eastern and southern—have already favored this city. Mr. Scott will return to La Crosse Wednesday morning.

The police and fire commission last night decided that they had the authority to hear the charges of insubordination preferred against Police Chief John Webber by Mayor Ori J. Sorensen and then granted attorneys for the chief until next Friday night to decide whether or not they would take the matter to the Supreme court. Immediately after the decision to hear the matter, Attorney George H. Gordon for Chief Webber explained that the defense was not ready to proceed with the immediate trial of the case and had brought in the special answer submitted to the commission with the purpose of taking the matter into the courts. In discussing the claim that the board was without authority to hear the matter Mr. Higbee said he never had heard the authority of the mayor questioned until the newspapers "conceived the idea of raising a dispute." He referred to the "unfortunate publicity" and the "disagreeable newspaper notoriety" as reasons for a speedy trial of the case. The hearing opened at 8 o'clock when Attorney Gordon submitted a special answer setting up that the commission had nothing before it upon which to act because the charges were not brought in the way specified by law and that the commission had no authority to hear and decide the matter because the questions at issue were ones of law. The charges, he explained, were not made by any individual the law recognized but were signed by the mayor in his official capacity. His contention was that they should not be recognized because if Sorensen, as an individual, sought to test the question of authority it was legal because Sorensen, as an individual was the only one affected. But as mayor, he argued, the entire citizenship is affected. Attorney Gordon also contended that provisions of the city charter upon which the city attorney based the commission's right to try the case were out of accord with provisions of the general charter law passed by the legislature and consequently had been abrogated. Mr. Gordon also pointed out that the rules and regulations of the fire and police commission specified that the men, during the daytime, "shall be in charge of the captain." The order of the mayor switching Dugan to nights was in conflict with the commission's own rules, he contended. The claim of Chief Webber's attorneys that the charges were not in the proper form and had not been filed by the proper individual caused Mr. Higbee apparent merriment and smiling. He requested that the charges be amended to specify the mayor as a citizen taxpayer and elector. He also claimed the general charter law cannot abrogate parts of

INDICATIONS POINT TO RECORD-BREAKING SUCCESS FOR VENTURE

Farmers' Day Editorial

"Farmers' Day" expresses but half of the purposes of the festival occasion to which we are giving ourselves Thursday. "Urban and Rural Day" is more complete. "Citizens' Day" would be accurate. The day is one in which we seek to emphasize the fact that there exists a community of interest between the people dwelling in the city and those living in the country, in that area of which La Crosse is the center of population and the natural trade depot. We all have this in mind, but in the hurry of individual endeavor, we are too apt to accept it as a fact calling for no practices on our part calculated to effectuate the advantages which co-operation offers us. City people know that good roads, quick and honest service and the purchase of necessary farm products near at home, in enriching the farmer and promoting the value of his farm and stock, contributes to the prosperity of the city. Farmers know that in buying and selling in the home city to the fullest practical extent they are enhancing the growth of the city and advancing city property values. We know these things, and in many respects we have acted upon our knowledge. What we now seek is a friendly meeting out of which may grow a deeper understanding of our common interests and a keener purpose to work together, to live together, to make this section a big family of broad-minded people each solicitous for the welfare of his community. To that end, as we meet on Thursday—friends and associates of years, strangers of years living close together—let us all extend the hand of fellowship. Speak and "shake," without waiting for the empty formality of introductions. Let us touch elbows in friendly informality and comradery.

Weather

Temperature ranges yesterday: High, 74. Low, 60. Precipitation, 0. Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Generally fair and cooler tonight and Wednesday. For Wisconsin: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday and in north and west portions tonight; brisk to high southwest winds. For Minnesota: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler tonight with frost; moderate to brisk winds. For Iowa: Generally fair and cooler tonight and Wednesday; frost northwest portion tonight; moderate to brisk winds. Weather Conditions The weather is generally clear and cool in the Atlantic and gulf states; cloudy and warmer in the upper Mississippi valley and upper lake region, and generally cloudy and cooler in the northern Rocky mountain and plateau region and in the Canadian northwest. Light rain has fallen during the past 24 hours from the north Pacific states eastward into Montana and Wyoming and snow is falling this morning at Calgary. Elsewhere the weather has been fair. The northwestern low is now central over Manitoba and an area of high pressure is central over the north Pacific slope. These pressure conditions indicate generally fair weather in this section tonight and Wednesday with somewhat lower temperature.

Cheered by assurances from all the outlying points about the city that there will be numerous large delegations, the committees in charge of arrangements for Farmers' Day, day after tomorrow, plunged into final details of arrangements today.

WEDDING BELLS

"I want to get married, I do, I do." "If you are singing the old song, and if you are waiting because you can't afford it—just yet, accept the invitation to be married on Farmers' Day (Thursday). For the applicant who accepts, furnishings to completely outfit a four room cottage will be provided FREE. Talk to Harry Taggart about it."

full of optimism over the prospects. At least 2,000 visitors are expected Thursday, and Harry Taggart, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association, which is back of the movement, is confident that this estimate is greatly under the mark that will be set. Arrangements have been made to throw the town wide open to visitors. All of the big manufacturing plants are preparing to show the city's guests through their establishments, under the direction of competent guides. Sight-seeing tours to take the visitors to points of interest about the city are also contemplated.

Theaters to be Free The theaters of the city will be thrown open to the guests, free of charge. The badge which will be supplied to the visitors by the welcoming committee as soon as they arrive in the city will be the "open sesame" to every attraction that is offered by the retail merchants. Chairman Ed. Dittman of the arrangements committee today announced that the committee had made preparations to supply these badges to all visitors on the market square. All of the guests are urged to present themselves at the square immediately upon their arrival to get the badges which will be official "keys to the city" for the entire day. The badges will be given out at the big headquarters tent which will be erected on the square. The badges will be ribbons of white silk, with the words "Farmers' Day October 16, 1913," printed upon them. The bridge will be free of toll all day Thursday, under a special arrangement agreed to by the city council. A large delegation, which it is believed will establish a record, is expected from Minnesota. Among the distinctive features of the arrangements is the fitting out of a luxurious rest room at 320 Jay street, for the use of women visitors. The merchants of the city have supplied chairs and couches for the use of the guests, and no expense has been spared to make the place cozy and comfortable. To Get Here Early The event has been occasioning a great deal of comment in the farming districts about the city, according to reports of committee members who have been canvassing the territory with advertising matter and personal invitations. Practically the whole

PLYMOUTH CHURCH IS MOST FAMOUS

Newell Dwight Hillis Succeeds Beecher and Abbott in Noted Pulpit

TO SPEAK IN NORMAL COURSE

Will Lecture This Evening on "The America of Today and Tomorrow"

Ten minutes' walk from Fulton Ferry and the Brooklyn bridge stands the most famous church in which religious services are held in America today. For forty years this plain, simple building was the forum for the greatest pulpit and platform voice in the United States, and for sixty years the multitudes have thronged and crowded toward the old Puritan structure. Every Sunday as well as week day come flocking to this church visitors or pilgrims from every part of the land and from countries beyond the sea. When Mr. Beecher died, Dr. Lyman Abbott was summoned to Plymouth.

Thirteen years ago Newell Dwight Hillis was called to Plymouth church. He first won the attention of the Christian world as the successor of Professor David Swing in Central Music hall, Chicago. No other clergyman of Chicago ever had more ideal conditions of bringing each Sunday to the congregation a discourse that was always published the following day. And when Dr. Abbott resigned, to give himself to the Outlook, the Chicago preacher was immediately called to Brooklyn. His success in Brooklyn was pronounced from the first hour. No one can enter the old building without catching the contagion of enthusiasm. No words can describe the loyalty of its men to old Plymouth.

The church is an absolute democracy known for its diversity in individual belief, for its philanthropic spirit, and its loyalty to its own multiform Christian activities. When Mr. Beecher died, the membership was about 2,500. When Dr. Abbott resigned, the church had some 1,800 members, despite all the removals incident to Mr. Beecher's death, and the fact that probably fifteen hundred out of its audience of two thousand must ride to church, while in Mr. Beecher's day most of the congregation were near enough to walk. The church is now growing constantly, and has gone up to 2,450 members, with about 7,500 people in its various clubs, schools and associations, that look to Plymouth church as their church home.

Dr. Hillis, besides being one of the most famous preachers of today, is also one of our most eminent lecturers and authors. Says the manager of his lecture tours:

"During the seventeen years since Dr. Hillis succeeded Prof. David Swing, in the Central Music Hall, of Chicago, he has delivered over 1250 lectures, in every state and territory save one, besides his many lecture tours of Canada. This year he will appear one hundred and twenty-five times, before various universities, colleges and lyceum courses. As pastor of Plymouth church, during the forty weeks of the year he gives us two nights a week, Tuesday and Wednesday, and occasionally Thursday night. During the summer he lectures from thirty to fifty times before colleges, summer schools and Chautauques, frequently lecturing once and twice a day for a week at a single university during its summer session. While his lecture prices are very high, perhaps the highest, our experience is that the lyceums make more money out of the high priced lecturer than out of the cheaper one. He will be able to give but 100 nights during the year, ending his lecture work on June 15, 1913. Dr. Hillis' new lecture on 'The America of Today and Tomorrow' is among the most popular and helpful lectures that we have ever presented during all the years of our management of the great lecturers of the generation."

Dr. Hillis will deliver this lecture in the Normal Lecture course at 8:15 on Tuesday evening, Oct. 14. Single admission, 50 cents.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

Teach Your Child How to Be Healthy

Regular Bowel Movement From Infancy Insures Good Health in Later Years.

We cannot all start life with the advantages of money, but every child born is entitled to the heritage of good health. Through unfortunate ignorance or carelessness in the feeding of a baby its tiny stomach may become deranged. The disorder spreads to the bowels and before the mother realizes it the two chief organs on which the infant's comfort and health depend are causing it great suffering. If the condition is allowed to continue grave ailments often result.

There is, however, no occasion for alarm, and the sensible thing to do—should be done instantly—is to give the baby a small dose of a mild laxative-remedy. In the opinion of a great many people, among them such well-known persons as the parents of Bertha Lee Woodard, 3 years old, of Moultrie, Ga., the proper remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. I. N. Woodard says that little Bertha was troubled with constipation for over a year, and that after trying several different kinds of remedies she found her relief in Syrup Pepsin. It is a mild, pleasant-tasting laxative, which every person likes, does not gripe nor cramp, and contains that most excellent of all digestants, pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is especially intended for infants, children, women, old people and all others to whom harsh cathartics, salt waters, pills, etc., are distressing. In fact, in the common disorders of life, such as constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, biliousness, headache and the various other disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, nothing is more suitable than this mild laxative-remedy, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Three generations of people are using it today, and thousands of families keep it constantly in their house, for every member of the family can use it. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents one dollar a bottle, the latter being the size bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 4 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Enclose postal card with your name and address on it will do.

BERTHA LEE WOODARD

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Little Annie Gets a Nice New Pet.

S AID daddy: "Little Annie wanted some pets. She had moved to town where they had a nice large yard and there was a little chicken house, a dog house and a very tiny barn at one end of the yard. She coaxed and coaxed for the pet she wanted. Now, what do you suppose it was?"

"Chickens," answered Evelyn. "A dog," suggested Jack. "No, it wasn't either of these," daddy went on. "It was something much larger than either of these."

"Little Annie's daddy promised her that when her birthday came around he would have a nice surprise for her. So, of course, she guessed and guessed what it would be, but her daddy always shook his head when she coaxed him to tell."

"Dinner was to be very nice, although no one but the family was to there. Annie's mother had made a birthday cake and on it were six lit candles, so, of course, you know how old she was."

"Annie said she would save the treat for dinner, because then daddy could share it. Her mother had thought this a very good plan, as she thought little girl was too excited to eat much until her father got home with surprise."

"Annie went out to the gate to watch for him. It was almost dark when she heard the whirring of wheels coming down the street."

"She started out to see what made the noise, and then she saw the dear little cart. And drawing it was the cutest little pony in the world."

"The pony cart drew up at her gate and then she could see that the sitting doubled up in the cart was her own dear daddy."

"Jump in and have a ride," he called gayly. "I take up a good deal of room, but this seat will hold two."

"Still Annie did not understand. She allowed her daddy to lift her and the two sat on the little seat very close together, of course, but quite comfortably."

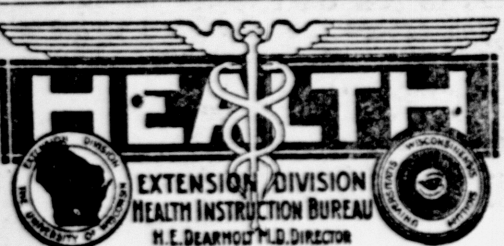

"Giddap, Jack!" daddy cried, and the little brown pony, who had twined his head to get a better view of the little girl, started nimbly off. It was wonderful how fast he could go and how strong he was for his size.

"When we turn for home," her daddy said, "you may hold the reins, because you will soon learn to drive Jack, for he is going to be your own pony."

"And now Annie says there is no pet so nice as a little pony and that Jack is the nicest and dearest pony in the world."

"Giddap, Jack," he daddy cried.

Cancer Troubles

The exact cause of cancer has not yet been determined. Nevertheless a public movement has recently been launched to prevent the tremendous loss of life from the disease. There is no absolute cure for the disease, in the sense that it can be cured in all stages. It's an erroneous idea, however, that once cancer has entered ed the system hope of life and health may as well be abandoned.

Cancer, for purposes of illustration, may be likened to a creature which had entered the body of the victim unnoticed—a creature which grows larger and larger, feeding upon the tissues in which it is contained.

While still small, its presence is unsuspected. It grows in a most amiable and careless fashion, wearing its host out, not by violent means, but by gradually sapping the vigor, strength and very food supply of the body which gives it hospitality. In the meantime, tiny processes grow out from the cancer, creeping further and further into the surrounding tissues which serve as a nest.

No drugs have been found which will kill the cancer without killing the patient. To rid the victim, it is necessary to cut down into the tissues and remove every vestige of the growth. The nature of the tumor is like that of certain living creatures, which can develop a new body from ever so small a fragment left alive.

When the attempt is made to remove cancer, the measures must be thorough and quick, for it would almost seem as though the cancer, like a wounded bear, changes its nature when interfered with, and becomes a perfect fury bent upon destroying its victim as soon as possible. It is for this reason that one should never use caustics, salves or half way surgical measures in cancer, and be chary of their use in growths which might be unsuspected cancers.

Cancers occur most frequently in persons over 40 years of age. Women particularly should be carefully watched at this time. It takes skill and special training to recognize cancers, when they can be easily and safely removed. The great hope at the present time is for early diagnosis. Prompt and complete removal insures absolute cure.

Australia.

The story of Australia is, from some points of view, curiously interesting. It offers the spectacle of the evolution of a nation, lying so near to us in time that the process can be studied with scientific minuteness and as under the lens of a microscope. And the factors, if not the events, are on a great scale. The stage is an entire continent. For Australia offers the only instance in history where a whole continent has flying above it the flag of a single people. And this is a continent with the climate of Italy, with more than the mineral wealth of Peru and as fit to be the granary of the world today as Egypt was for the world of the Caesars—"The New World of the South."

A Mother's Sacrifice.

Legends in India run that if a woman stricken with leprosy suffers herself to be buried alive the disease will not descend to her children. There was in the northwest provinces of India the wife of a gardener on whom the loathsome malady had fallen. Children were born to her. The disease grew worse. She importuned her husband to bury her alive. He at last, yielding to her prayers, summoned his son. The two dug the grave, and four neighbors assisted at the sepulture. So the woman died. These remarkable facts were investigated in a magistrate's court and were fully proved.—London Mail.

Same, but More of It.

Sitting in a Broadway restaurant the other evening were two young women who had not met for four years. One of them had grown stout, and the other had admitted that she wouldn't have recognized her old friend under ordinary circumstances. They sat silently looking at each other for a moment, when the heavyweight inquired of her friend:

"What are you thinking about?" "I was just trying to see whether your expression is the same as it used to be," said her friend.

"Just the same," the girl with the avoirdupois declared, "only more of it."—New York Globe.

THE JUSTICE OF "JUSTICE"

"Not long ago a Milwaukee business man refused to give a job to an applicant on the sole ground that said applicant had just served a term in the house of correction," says the Racine Times. "There is nothing remarkable about that fact, perhaps;
men who have 'served time' are usually subjected to a suspicion of dishonesty. But here is the grotesque feature of this particular case: The man who sought a job had been found guilty of speeding an automobile. He was a chauffeur. He was given '$25 or sixty days,' or some such matter. Not having the money he went to the house of correction.
Within a week the business man who later refused to give him a job was arrested for speeding and given the same sentence. He, being well-to-do, paid the fine. No stigma attaches to him. He is as reputable as he was before arrested. His friends at the club, and in his social circle, laughed at him for being the victim of a sort of joke. He considered the affair in the light of an interesting adventure.

"The poor chauffeur, having committed the same offense, and being adjudged guilty in the same way, because he did not have the money to pay the fine, was sent to the house of correction. Is this a fair deal in a land where all men are supposed to be equal before the law?"
"Each of these two men palliated their offense in a manner prescribed by the court, although each took a different method. Yet, having done so, one is branded as a criminal and the other has no blemish upon his record in the eyes of society. The man who was able to avoid imprisonment by the use of money honestly considers his fellow criminal beneath him because he could not escape jail in the same way.

"Would it not be better if the law provided jail sentences for those crimes which deserve jail sentences, and money fines for the misdemeanors which are not so heinous? Then let the punishment be inflicted upon offenders, whether they be rich or poor, in exactly the same way. There should be no such judgment as '$500

fine or a year in the penitentiary.'
It should be 'a fine of from $10 to $500, according to the defendant's ability to pay,' or else 'a year in the penitentiary.' One is not a fair substitute for the other."

WIRELESS TELEGRAPH
SCORES AGAIN

The wireless has scored again as one of the greatest achievements of modern times. It is likely that few if any of the 521 who were rescued after the burning of the Voltorno would have escaped had it not been for the aid summoned by wireless telegraphy. A fierce storm was raging when the life boats put away from the burning ship. Some of the boats were dashed to pieces against the sides of the doomed steamer. It is a problem whether any would have survived had those in the life boats been forced to await the chance of being picked up by a passing liner. Some might have been saved.
It is not likely that a large percentage of those who were rescued would have escaped, and it is possible all would have perished.

The experience in this case emphasizes the wisdom of the laws enacted by our congress requiring that passenger boats be equipped with wireless and that it should be so installed and manned as to be always in readiness to send and to receive calls for help. The equipment on the Voltorno would have availed nothing had not the ten ships that responded been prepared to pick up the appeal when it was sent out.
The Titanic disaster centered attention on the importance of being able to summon help at sea. The United States and other nations acted in response. The Voltorno disaster should result in increased readiness and facilities for handling fire aboard ship.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Considering that the 345,582nd installment of the Thaw serial has just been printed, the suspicion is dawn-old days.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, ache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases. Agent,

The Old Creek
The frogs still cry "Knee deep!
Knee deep!"
Among its starlit pools,
When dim the woodland dreams, asleep,
And dusk its waters cool;
The fireflies round its banks of ferns
Hang will-o'-wisp for lamps,
Where in a place no eye discerns
Enchantment's host encamps.

The bats above it go and come
In reeling rigadoons,
While Elfland beats a beetle drum
Or cricket fiddle tunes;
And in and out, and all about
The pixy people dance
To katydid song and frog gong
That hold the woods a-trance.

The moon looks, listening, through the trees
As if its heard its calls,
Or with long arms of light to seize.
Its twinkling waterfalls,
With witch'y, who, with foam white hand
Its shimmering banks between,
Beckons from sand to ruffled sand
To something far, unseen.

A ghost that leans beside it still—
The phantom of a boy Who followed once its wildwood will
With barefoot troops of joy;
The soul of him who years afar
To see, in dusk and dew,
If still it dances with the star
Which once his boyhood knew.
—Madison Cawein.

Choice of Choices
It was on the Auguste Victoria, homeward bound, that two Americans, a Frenchman and an Englishman were discussing the relative value of European and American waiters, with the balance much in favor of the transatlantic variety.
To illustrate his point, the American related the experience of a New Yorker in a Broadway cafe, whose bill of fare afforded a choice of mince pie, cherry pie, custard pie and apple.

"You may bring me," said the guest, "a piece of apple, of cherry and of custard pie."
"Well," ejaculated the waiter,
"what is the matter with the mince pie, sir?"
After the laugh had subsided the Englishman leaned across the table,
"Beg your pardon, Dr. Smith, but what was the matter with the mince pie?"

A young man was lounging on the summer veranda. Close by sat a pretty widow with her little son.
Presently the youngster ran up to the young man and was patted on the head.
"What's your name?" lisped the little fellow.
The young man told him.
"Ith you married?"
"No, I am not," said the young man.
The youngster then turned to the pretty widow, saying: "What elthe muth! I atkh him, mamma?"

voice, Miss X. I wish I could hear you sing every day.

Explained
"Atkins," said the sergeant angrily, "why haven't you shaved this morning?"
"Ain't I shaved?" asked Atkins, in apparent surprise.
"No, you're not," insisted the sergeant; "and I want to know why."
"Well, you see, sergeant," replied the soldier, "there was a dozen of us using the same mirror and I must have shaved the other man."—New

A Romance of Extraordinary Distinction

Marshal

Jean Philippe Moisson, having stayed to listen, as he ought not, lifted his eyes and his hands to heaven and gave thanks in a general way, volubly, unrebuked. By now the unsteady fingers of Alixe had opened the paper, and her head and Pietro's were bent over it, devouring the well-known writing.
Alixe, excited, French, exploded into a disjointed running comment.

"From prison—our Francois—dear Francois!" And then: "Five years, Pietro! Think—while we have been free!" And then, with a swift clutch again at the big coat sleeve crowding against her: "Pietro! See, see! The date—it is only two months ago. He was alive then; he must be alive now; he is! I knew it, Pietro! A woman knows more things than a man."

With that she threw up her head and fixed Jean Philippe, drinking in all this, with an unexpected stern glance. "What are you doing here, Moisson? What manners are these?"
Then, relapsing in a flash into pure human trust and affection toward the anxious old servant: "My dear, old, good Moisson—he is alive—Monsieur Francois is alive—in a horrible prison in Italy! But he is alive, Moisson!" And with that, a sudden jump again into dignity. "Who brought this, Moisson?"

Jean Philippe was only too happy to have a hand in the joyful excitement. "Mademoiselle, the young person speaks little language. But he told me to say to Monsieur the Marquis that he was the little Bat-tista."

Pietro looked up quickly. "Alixe, it is the servant from my old home of whom I spoke to you. I can not imagine how Francois got hold of him, but he chose a good messenger. May I have him brought here?
He must have something to tell us."

Alixe, her letter tight in her hands, struggled in her mind. Then:
"The letter will keep—yes, let him come, and we can read it all the better after for what he may tell us."

So Moisson, having orders to produce at once the said little Battista, retired, much excited, and returned shortly—but not so shortly as to have omitted a fling of the great news into the midst of the servan-tess. He conducted, marching behind him, the little Battista, an enormous young man of six feet four, erect, grave, stately. The dignified person, saluting the lady with a deep bow, dropped on one knee before his master, his eyes full of a worshiping joy, and kissed his hand. Having done which, he arose silently and stood waiting, with those beaming eyes feasting on Pietro's face, but otherwise decorous.

First the young marquis said some friendly words of his great pleasure in seeing his old servant and the friend of his childhood, and the big man stood with downcast eyes, with the color flushing his happy face.
Then, "Battista," asked the marquis,
"how did you get the letter which you brought mademoiselle?"

"My father," answered Battista laconically.

"How did your father get it?"
"From the signor prisoner, my Signor."

Alixe and Pietro looked at him attentively, not comprehending by what means this was possible. Pietro, remembering the little Battista of old, vaguely remembered that he was incapable of initiative in speech.
One must pump him painfully.

"Was your father in the prison where the signor is confined?" Alixe asked.

The little Battista turned his eyes on her a second, approvingly, but briefly. They went back without delay to their affair of devouring the face of his master. But he answered promptly. "Yes, Signorina; he is there always."

"Always?" Pietro demanded in alarm. "Is Battista a prisoner?"

"But no, my Signor."

"What then? Battista, try to tell us."

So adjured, little Battista made a violent effort. "He is one of the jailors, my Signor."

"Jailers? For the Austrians?" The face of the marquis took all the joyful light out of the face of little Bat-tista.

"My Signor," he stammered, "it could not be helped. He was there.
He knew the castle. They forced him at first, and it came to be so."

"Knew the castle?" Pietro repeated. "What castle?"

Battista's eyes turned to his master's like those of a faithful dog, trusting but not understanding.
"What castle, my Signor? Castelforte
—the Signor's own castle—what other?"

A sharp exclamation from Alixe summed up everything. "Your castle is confiscated; they use it as a prison. Francois is a prisoner there, Pietro! All these years—in your own home!"

"I never dreamed of that," Pietro spoke, thinking aloud. "Every other prison in Austria and Italy I have tried to find him in. I never dreamed of Castelforte."

And with that, as if pulling teeth, they got by slow degrees all that he knew from the little Battista. The letter, tight in Alixe's hand, was still unread; this living document seemed to bring them closer to their friend than even his written words. There were some things in the living letter, moreover, not to be found in the one of paper and ink. The little Battista, being put to the wall, told them what his father had told him, what the doctor of the prison had told his father. How the prisoner's health was failing; of that band of white in his dark hair; at last that the doctor had said to the big Battista that the prisoner could no live more than two or three years as things were;
that even if released he might not regain his health, would not live, perhaps; that the only thing which could save him would be a long sea voyage.

"A long sea voyage!" Alixe groaned and put her face into her hands suddenly, and Pietro looked very sorry.

"A long sea voyage for a political prisoner in the hands of the pitiless Austrians!"

At the end of the interview the little Battista put his hand into his breast pocket and brought out another letter, thickly folded. Would mademoiselle have him instructed where to find the mother of the signor prisoner? He had promised to put

IN The WORLD OF WOMEN

The trade union congress in Great Britain recently adopted a resolution favoring a wage scale for all adult workers and urging the government from letting contracts to firms where the wages for women are lower than those paid to men for the same work.

Olga Lenz, doctor of laws, has been appointed a member of the city board of guardians by the city council of Zurich. She is the first woman to receive such an appointment in Switzerland under the civil law which makes women eligible.

Now that Huerta has ceased to be some of the life insurance companies will be willing to do business with him.

LATEST BOOK IN PICTURE AND PROSE

Interesting Story of Unusual Country and People Told in Bright Word Pictures

As previously announced The Tribune is presenting to its readers "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." This latest book was written by Willis J. Abbot, the well-known writer on international subjects, and is the acknowledged reference work of the great waterway. It is a beautiful large book, fully double the dimensions of the usual size novel, printed from new type, bound in tropical red vellum cloth, with the title stamped in gold and inlaid with a beautiful color panel showing the famous Culebra cut. It contains more than 600 splendid illustrations, which include magnificent water color studies reproduced in full pages in all their natural beautiful colorings.

While the older members of the family will gladly welcome this book, the children should also familiarize themselves with its contents, for it contains valuable knowledge concerning this new little "old" strip of land between the two Americas. It acquaints you with the people of Panama and the Canal Zone, telling you of their appearance, their dress, their home life, their social life, their industries, their sports and pastimes. This is not only entertaining, but it is highly important information from an educational viewpoint, and should be read by every man, woman and child who is interested in the world's development and progress.

Under usual conditions this beautiful big book would readily sell for at least $4, but realizing the world-wide interest in the Panama Canal, daily newspapers throughout the United States and Canada are making this great distribution for the benefit of their readers, recognizing the fact that exact knowledge on this timely subject is an essential part of the education of all who would advance. So for a short time this volume will be presented to readers for only six certificates and the small expense amount named therein to cover the expense of distribution.

Clip the certificate today. It is printed elsewhere in this issue.

HUNTER IS KILLED
WHEN GUN SLIPS

WAUSAU, Wis., Oct. 14.—John Monakowski of Stevens Point accidentally shot and killed himself on Sunday while hunting near Moon. Standing on a culvert, his gun slipped, the trigger struck a board and the gun was discharged, the charge entering the left groin. He lived only a few minutes.

Cool in Face of Death. One of the most extraordinary cases of sangroid on the scaffold occurred some time ago, when Macdonald, who murdered a Miss Holt, paid the penalty of his crime in England. The hangman had forgotten the white cap to place over the prisoner's eyes, and Macdonald, noticing what had happened, remarked to his executioner: "Put your hand in my breast pocket and you'll find a silk handkerchief. That will do to blind my eyes, won't it?"

Handy Correspondence Cards. "Ready made correspondence" cards have been in vogue in France for several years. On each card are printed remarks with which holiday makers contrive to fill up a page of letter paper—"just arrived," "Weather bad," "This is a bad hotel," "Very dull here," "Jolly people," "Send me some money," and the like. One merely puts a cross against the sentence that expresses his sentiment.

Man's Seven Faults. A magazine called Paris Taste asked its women readers recently to vote on the seven worst faults of the modern young man, and publishes the replies. Egotism gets 10,014 votes, laziness and self-sufficiency run a dead heat with 7,400 votes, and fast living, gambling, intemperance and abuse of sport vary from 6,400 to 5,000 votes. Foolishness came last in the list.

SENATE YAWNS AT TILLMAN'S JOKE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Senator Tillman introduced another novelty in the Congressional Record today, when he had read and inserted a bit of doggerel verse on the effect of dyed wool, written by his predecessor, Senator Vance, in 1889. At the same time Tillman discovered that humor is no longer appreciated by the senate. The verse which the faithful record said convulsed the senate in '89 didn't draw a peep from the 1913 senate. Senator Smoot yawned. Ollie James waved a fly off the bald head and Senator Jim Ham Lewis fondled a new necktie.

The verse was a parody on "Mary's Little Lamb," and portrayed the fact that rich little girls could wear pure wool and poor little girls only 56 per cent wool. Last week Tillman inserted the first cartoon that has ever appeared in the Record.

MILWAUKEE POLES GET THEIR BISHOP

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14.—According to dispatches received from Rome yesterday, Pope Pius has appointed Father Edward Kozlowski, pastor of St. Stanislaus Polish church, Bay City, Mich., auxiliary bishop of the Milwaukee diocese to succeed to the Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Koudelka, who has been appointed bishop of the diocese of Superior.

The Poles in Milwaukee are gratified over the appointment of Father Kozlowski, as they have twice petitioned the head of the church for a Polish auxiliary bishop for this diocese.

"CASCARETS" IF CONSTIPATED, SICK HEADACHY, BILIOUS—DIME A BOX

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets sweeten and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas;

take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel bully and cheerful for months. Don't forget the children.

CATTLE POISONED
BY EATING ACORNS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—Wisconsin farmers are being warned against pasturing their young cattle in oak groves where the animals have access to acorns.

These are the cause of a number of cases of poisoning recently reported to Dr. O. H. Eliason, state veterinarian. Similar reports have come to Dr. A. S. Alexander of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, who is advising farmers to transfer their herds to other pastures, or to rake up and remove the acorns.

"The proper treatment," declares Dr. Alexander, "consists in administering a half pint of raw linseed oil with strong coffee, to which other stimulants may be added. The addition of a cup of molasses to each dose of the oil and coffee will make it still more effective. This remedy should be given every eight hours and until eight doses have been given."

It is better to use preventive means than to give antidotes.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Easy and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This plan makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchial asthma.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pinex is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

The prompt results from this mixture have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

REV. TEN BROECK DIES IN THE WEST
Was for Twenty Years the Rector of Christ Church in La Crosse
DIED ON EVE OF GOLDEN WEDDING
Death Comes Monday Afternoon at His Home in Faribault, Minnesota

FARIBAULT, Minn., Oct. 14.—Rev. William P. Ten Broeck, professor of history and church law in the Seabury Divinity school of this city the past twenty years, died at 5:20 p. m. Monday. The funeral will be held from the Faribault cathedral at 2:30 p. m. on Wednesday, with burial in the Faribault cemetery.
Dr. Ten Broeck was born in 1841 in New York City. He was graduated from the Nashota Theological seminary. But very few clergymen of the Minnesota diocese of the Episcopal church were more widely known or more generally beloved than he.
He had finished fifty active years as a minister and his death comes on the eve of his golden wedding anniversary. He had held pastorates in Sully, Pa.; in Green Bay, Wis., from 1858 to 1863, and for twenty years was rector of Christ church at La Crosse. He was rector of Christ church in St. Paul from 1873 to 1882. He had been a member of the standing committee of the Episcopal diocese for many years.
He was widely celebrated throughout the middle west for his scholarly and intellectual attainments and his kindly ministrations. Hundreds of families regarded him as their counselor and minister for nearly half a century. On occasions when unusual confidence between family and pastor seemed desirable, he was summoned from long distances to resume the place he had held so long in former years. He had thus devoted the last few years of his life to his family and friends whom he had cherished through a long series of years.
Dr. Ten Broeck and Mary Elizabeth Yundt were married in Lafayette, Ind. Five children survive them, Rev. C. H. Ten Broeck, rector of the Episcopal church at Austin, Minn.; Rev. G. A. Ten Broeck, rector of the Episcopal church at Calumet, Mich.; Dr. Louis L. Ten Broeck, of Minneapolis; R. C. Ten Broeck, head master of St. Alban's school at Knoxville, Ill., and Miss Ann Ten Broeck.
Philippine Embroidery.
Children under ten years of age make some of the most beautiful and delicate samples of embroideries in the Philippines. Almost every design of Philippine embroidery shipped contains drawnwork which is its chief attraction, putting it in a class by itself, and Philippine workers have developed this part of their designs to a high degree of excellence.
Why There Are Bachelors.
It has been computed that our planet is peopled by about 1,700,000,000 living members of the human species and that this very respectable total includes some 5,500,000 more men than women. Supposing all women to be married or assured of marrying, this disproportion signifies 5,500,000 men who are bachelors willy nilly without considering the few who may have had bachelorhood thrust upon them by the unresponsive ladies of their choice.

FOUNDRY AT HIGH GETS REGULAR JOB
Board of Education Recommends that Fire Escape Castings Be Made by the Pupils
Practical work for the new manual training department of the high school was outlined by the board of education at their monthly meeting last night, when they recommended that the school's foundry make castings for several fire escapes, which have been ordered by the chief of the fire department. It was also recommended that most of the work of installation be done by the high school pupils. If any of the teachers need desks, also, it was decided that the manual training department will furnish estimates for them.
Jameson Resigns
The resignation of W. S. Jameson as trustee officer on the north side was accepted. It was voted that a letter of appreciation of his faithful services be sent to him.
A great of dissatisfaction was expressed because the library board had taken no action on the proposition that the board pay the salary of an assistant to take charge of a branch at the high school.
Miss Katharine Gallagher was granted a release from her contract to take a position in Fond du Lac teaching commercial subjects.
It was moved to furnish the gas stove needed in the north side cooking room.
It was voted that if more than half of the high school teachers agree to attend the state teachers' association, the high school be closed on the sixth and seventh of November. If any of the grade teachers wish to go, time will be given them.
It was voted that the Christmas vacation include the week from December 19 to 29, with New Year's day out the next week.
The superintendent's monthly report showed a gain of 154 pupils over the corresponding month of last year. The board put in an hour discussing the tentative budget prepared by the superintendent. After considerable discussion it was found necessary to increase the amount asked for as provision had not been made for fire escapes and the amount still owing the park commission for purchase of school lots.

BENDEL INFANT DEAD
Rowland Bendel, aged 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Bendel, died at 4 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of his parents in Chipmunk Coulee. Death was caused by convulsions. The funeral was held at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the home and at 1:45 from the Chipmunk Coulee German Methodist church, Rev. Whittier officiating. Burial will be made in the Chipmunk Coulee cemetery.
The Popinjay.
The origin of the application of the term "popinjay" to a dude was as follows: The popinjay was a figure of a bird shot at for practice. The jay was decked with parrot-colored feathers so as to resemble a parrot and, being suspended on a pole, served as a target. He whose ball or arrow brought down the bird by cutting the string by which it was hung received the proud title of Captain Popinjay for the rest of the day and was escorted home in triumph.

DRY'S WIN VICTORY
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 14.—The Ohio Anti-Saloon league won a big victory today when the supreme court in interpreting the initiative and referendum section of the new constitution decided that the courts cannot pass on the constitutionality of an initiative bill before it and has been voted on by the people. The liquor interest contended that the anti-saloon league's initiated bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into dry territory was unconstitutional.
Not Worth Stealing.
A certain dramatic author was seen by a friend to have a manuscript almost falling from his pocket. "If you were not so well known you would have had your pocket picked," said the friend.
Legend of the Sun and Moon.
One day in China, so the legend runs, the sun asked the moon if she couldn't go out at night. The moon answered very sternly: "No. You are a young lady, and it would be improper for you to go out after dark." Then the sun said, "But the people keep looking at me when I go out in the daytime." So the moon told her to take the golden needles that she wore in her hair and stick them into the eyes of people when they stared at her. This is the reason why no one can look at the sun without pain.

CHICAGO.—The police investigation into the murder of Miss Ida Leegson, a sculptress, nurse, and teacher, whose nude body was found in a lonely spot on the western city limits recently, has now made its way into the "black belt" of Chicago's west side. The police are convinced that the murder was committed by a copper colored negro, who made it a practice to lure young women to death or attack through advertisements he or they inserted in newspapers offering or seeking positions. They say they have discovered evidence that this man sold a watch and a penknife belonging to Miss Leegson in a pawnbroker's establishment.

On Her Mind.
Speaking of a lobbyist whose lobby had failed, a senator said: "He tried to accept defeat with urbanity, but unconsciously he showed his chagrin. Poor chap, he resembled Mrs. Smythe. Mrs. Smythe called on a friend, expecting to be asked to stay for luncheon. But the friend didn't ask her, and so Mrs. Smythe, secretly much disappointed and put out, rose to go. She didn't intend in the least to show her regret, but involuntarily, as she put out her hand, she said, 'Well, goodbye, dear Mrs. Luncheon.'"

Until they can be restored to their parents, the Uranium officials will take the best care of the little waifs of the sea, and they will be returned to their parents as quickly as possible aboard the swiftest liners available.

The first lifeboat that reached La Touraine carried seven of the little babies, some crying lustily, others too frightened and cold to make a sound.

One little boy, stark naked and weeping in a blanket, was found asleep when he was passed over La Touraine's rail.

The first cabin women of the French boat crowded the boat deck when the baby survivors were taken aboard. Crying hysterically over them, they vied with each other for possession of the little ones.

Expensive first class staterooms were turned into nurseries. The babies were washed and fed and were wrapped in all manner of apparel until clothing could be produced for them.

A. J. Norton, an architect of Denver, who was aboard La Touraine, graphically described the scene at the burning Voltorno.

"La Touraine was one of the last liners to arrive at the hellish scene on Thursday night," said Norton. "At first we could see only a dull and fought the fire down below until the engines stopped. We stayed in that blazing hell as long as mortal men could stay. Our hair and brows singed off, our hands and faces blistered and our shoes burned through. We stayed there until Thursday night. No man quit. No man thought of food.

"Captain Inch did not have to drive any of us back with his pistol, because none tried to leave until all had been done that could be done.

"The reason we stopped fighting the fire, even though the task had been obviously hopeless for hours, was that the engines stopped and there was no power to pump more water through the hose.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 14.—Officials of the Uranium line were today preparing to urge a rigid investigation of the burning of the liner Voltorno, on the theory that it was deliberately set ablaze as a part of a fight to put the line out of business.

Captain Tinsley of the royal naval reserve, and manager of the Uranium line, declared that he had received many threatening letters. Just before the Voltorno sailed, he received an anonymous communication declaring that "one of your boats will be burned if you do not listen to our demands!"

the part of the crew or the men passengers. A great many men and sailors jumped overboard during Thursday night. Some were drowned and others were rescued by the surrounding steamers.

Hendrick Mennema, 33, the Dutch second cook on the Voltorno, was one of those injured in jumping from the burning ship. His leg was broken and he arrived in La Touraine's hospital.

"We first knew of the fire when a ship's boy raced over the ship crying 'Fire' at the top of his lungs," said Mennema. "Smoke was issuing from the forward hatch and we found four dead in the fore-castle. There was no explosion until later.

Credit to Oil Ship
"The Voltorno's boats saved no one. I cannot account for that, but I am positive that all of us would have been lost but for the rescue ships, and I think the Narragansett deserves the most credit of all for furnishing the oil that calmed the waves."

Few of the survivors aboard the Touraine spoke English or French and were unable to communicate with their rescuers. They knelt on the decks and wept today when a tugboat meeting the liner at the harbor's entrance, brought a score of newspaper correspondents who could speak Dutch and German. When some of these on the tug gave the survivors money, they kissed their hands. All of them had lost their baggage and had only the clothes they wore and little money.

Tells of Discovery
LIVERPOOL, Oct. 14.—The fire aboard the Voltorno was discovered by Ernest Harmanick, a German sailor, aboard the liner, who was rescued and brought to this port today on the Leyland liner Devonian.

The most pathetic figure among the survivors aboard the Devonian was a 4 year old girl. She was so bewildered and frightened that she could not speak a coherent word and there was nothing on her clothing to identify her. The Leyland officials will care for her.

Captain Grant was lavishly praised, but the Devonian passengers paid most attention to Arthur Hazelwood, a seaman, who dived overboard at the height of the storm and rescued a baby which a hysterical mother was seen to throw over the Voltorno's rail Thursday night.

MRS. EATON ON TRIAL

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 14.—"How anxious I am to have it begin—just let me hurry, please," was the comment of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton at the opening of her trial here today for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, by poisoning. She greeted the crowds with smiles and calmly posed several times for newspaper photographs.

WANT MORE RELIGION

EPISCOPAL BISHOPS DEPLORE LACK OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Lack of religious instruction in the public schools and the decline of a high standard of Christian morality among parents were deprecated by speakers in the before the joint session of the houses of bishops and deputies of the Protestant Episcopal convention here today. The attack which was led by Bishops Thomas F. Gailer of Tennessee and David H. Greer of New York, was made to emphasize the necessity of uniting the Christian church throughout the country.

COMMISSION SAYS IT HAS RIGHT TO HEAR POLICE ROW

the city's special charter unless the language in the former is specific.

He quoted a state supreme court decision in a mandamus action brought against David S. Rose, former mayor of Milwaukee, to prove that the commission had the authority to hear the matter. It was several pages in length and in rendering it the supreme court had gone back to John Adams' term as president.

"The discussion of Mr. Higbee of the supreme court decision in the Rose case," commented Mr. Gordon, "is clever from a historical standpoint but the case has no bearing on this dispute. In that instance a citizen mandamus the mayor to compel him to exercise an authority that was discretionary. The supreme court held the mayor could not be forced to exercise a power when the law intended him to exercise his own discretion."

It is the belief of many lawyers today that the matter must be threshed out before the commission before it can be taken to the courts. They doubt that the court will issue an injunction restraining the commission from hearing the matter. Their doubt is based on the alleged fact that no irreparable injury will be worked upon Webber by any decision the commission might make.

YEGGS OVERLOOK

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Safe blowers operated with nitro-glycerine early today on the safe at a sub-postal station at Lincoln avenue and Robey street, secured $700 in cash and stamps, but overlooked several thousand dollars in another strong box inside the wrecked safe.

THREE BALLOONS DOWN

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Three of the nineteen balloons that started Sunday in the international balloon race, Gordon Bennett cup, landed during the night as follows: Honey-moon, English; Roma, Italian; and La Patrie, French. They landed in Brittany close together, and the Picordi, French, landed near Saint Naraire, France.

Horses Not Like Machines.

Animals are not like the machinery on the farm. They have a mind and sensibilities that should be given some consideration by those who have to work with them. A machine can be neglected and misused, and the greatest harm that can come of it is that the owner will have to buy a new machine, but an animal that is treated in a similar manner is made to suffer pain. Horses get tired and need good food, water and rest. Don't treat them like mere machines.—Farmer's Guide.

GIVE UP HOPE OF STRAIGHT ELECTION

Washington Awaits Huerta's Declaration of Himself as Dictator

U. S. POLICY IS BEING JUSTIFIED

Rumors that England Will Withdraw Recognition Pleases the Administration

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—All hope for a constitutional election in Mexico on which to base recognition by the United States was abandoned by officials today. They felt that Huerta would declare himself dictator at any moment, and believed that as he is now virtually dictator the coming elections would be only a farce.

Germany's course in ordering a warship to Mexican waters and rumors that England would withdraw recognition, caused surprise here, but added to the administration's faith in its own policy.

Decision to maintain the present policy with regard to Mexico, was determined upon at today's cabinet meeting, the first since July 25. Secretary of State Bryan informed the meeting of Huerta's decree placing himself in absolute control in Mexico.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Oct. 14.—News that constitutionalists are concentrating for an attack on Monterey has resulted in large numbers of American and other noncombatants leaving the city for the American border. The constitutionalists plan to make the city, which is the capital of Nuevo Leon, and the largest city in northern Mexico, headquarters and a military base.

ERICKSON DENIES COMPANIES' PLEA

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—That the operation of the federal parcel post has not crippled the express companies of the state is the contention of H. Erickson, Wisconsin railroad commissioner, in an affidavit filed with Circuit Judge Ray E. Stephens here, in the express rate cases. Erickson in his affidavit alleges that the earnings of the Wells-Fargo Express company for the past nine months have exceeded those for a similar period last year. Opposing the enforcement of the railroad commission's order to reduce freight rates, the companies of the state say that since the inauguration of the parcel post their earnings have decreased thirty per cent.

LAY MURDER TO BOY'S RELATIVES

KIEFF, Russia, Oct. 14.—Evidence given at the "ritual murder" trial today tended to strengthen the belief that the Jew, Mendel Bellis, in his defense will try to prove that the Christian boy, Andrew Yushinsky, was murdered by his own relatives.

Several witnesses this afternoon told stories corroborating the testimony of Dobjansky, the publican, who told of hearing Yushinsky's aunt, now dead, say a few days after the mutilated body of Andrew was found, that his own people killed him.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14.—More than a thousand Milwaukee Jews assembled this afternoon in a North side auditorium and adopted resolutions condemning the alleged persecution by the Russian government of Mendel Bellis, accused of the "ritual murder" at Kieff, Russia. Some of the most prominent Jewish citizens, including the rabbis of the meeting, the resolutions will be forwarded to Kieff.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Henry Spencer, dope fiend, and alleged wholesale murder, will be taken to Wayne, Ill., tonight to re-enact the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat, the Chicago tango instructor he declares he killed.

Land and Water.

It cannot, of course, be said for certain that we yet know the greatest depth of the sea. But Sir James Ross once took soundings 900 miles to the westward of St. Helena and found the depth to be just under six miles! And the pressure of the water at only 1,100 yards is equal to 15,000 pounds to the square inch.

Altogether there are about 147,000,000 square miles of water on the earth to 49,500,000 square miles of land.—London Globe.

POSTPONE FLOUR CASE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Attorneys for the government and the western flour millers today agreed to postpone argument in the supreme court of the United States on the bleached flour cases until next January.

CLAIMS HE KILLED ALICE MATTHEWS

Man Arrested as Suspicious Character in Oak Park Tearfully Confesses Crime

MILL CITY POLICE SCOUT TALE

Declare He Confessed Once Before and Was Shown to Have Been Lying

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Alfred Driscoll, 20, arrested by the Oak Park police at 10 a. m. today, as a suspicious character, confessed this afternoon, according to Police Captain Lee of Oak Park, that he assaulted and strangled to death Alice Matthews, a young girl who was murdered at Minneapolis eighteen months ago. "I'm tired of having the thing preying on my mind," said Driscoll. "I'm ready to go back to Minneapolis this minute and take my medicine."

Captain Lee had never heard of the Matthews murder, and at first discredited his statement.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 14.—Minneapolis police this afternoon refused to place credence in the confession of Alfred Driscoll that he murdered Alice Matthews.

Three weeks after the murder Driscoll, a prisoner at the training school at Red Wing, confessed to Superintendent Mercla that he had killed the girl. Detectives went to the institution and questioned Driscoll, but his confession was so much at variance with the known facts that no credence was placed in it.

REFERENDUM IS BOOST FOR BILL

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 14.—By a vote of 333 to 17, the National Association of Chambers of Commerce of more than 400 of the most influential business organizations in the country, endorsed a majority of the provisions of the Glass-Owen currency bill. The result of the balloting was announced today by the board of directors of the association in session here. Each chamber of commerce in the country which is affiliated with the national organization was entitled to a vote. A committee report on the measure was submitted to a referendum and approved. The report urges seven distinct amendments to the Owen-Glass bill, all of which were approved by substantial majorities in the chamber of commerce referendum.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE IS DISSOLVED TODAY

The La Crosse Builders' Exchange, founded here in 1912, was dissolved today when Secretary of State John S. Donald approved the action taken by eighteen members of the board of directors held here September 15. The Exchange was without capital stock and was formed for mutual benefit among members. The reason given for dissolution is that there is no business to transact.

SHOOTS GRANDMOTHER

PAYNESVILLE, Minn., Oct. 14.—The 11 year old son of Emil Krupke, a farmer living near here, stepped aside, shotgun in hand, last evening at the door of his home, to let his grandmother, Mrs. Gustave Krupke pass into the house. The gun was in some way accidentally discharged and the full contents struck the aged woman in the face, instantly killing her.

We are assured by competent authority that Thales of Miletus taught that the earth was of globular form so early as 640 B. C. Pythagoras demonstrated from the varying altitudes of the stars that the earth must be round. Aristotle of Samos maintained that the earth turned on its own axis and revolved about the sun, which doctrine was held by his contemporaries as so absurd and revolting that the philosopher nearly lost his life.—B. C. 280. The wisdom of the ancients was, of course, lost sight of in the darkness of the "middle ages," and it took Galileo and Copernicus to restore the old knowledge to the world.—New York American.

A Tree and a Millstone.

"Sometimes nature turns to an unexpected use the handiwork of man," says Dr. Charles G. Percival in his book, "The Trail of the Bulldog." At Sheldon's mill, near South Dovor, N. Y., there is a very comfortable seat of stone around a huge tree which puzzles visitors, as the stone is natural without a single break to show how it got around the tree trunk. The story is that a discarded millstone lay on the ground for many years and a seed blown by the wind dropped into the core of the stone and grew there, finally growing into a tree, filling the hole in the center of the stone, and as the tree grew in size the stone was gradually lifted, making the unique seat.

BOARD EXTENDS TIME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The interstate commerce commission today extended the time for the new express rates throughout the country to December first. It flatly refused requests by the express companies to revise the scale of rates it proposed.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Oct. 14.—Four persons, the crew of a Green Bay Electric company sprinkler narrowly escaped drowning at today when the west approach to Main street bridge over the Fox river collapsed under the weight of car, and the sprinkler plunged through into the river. New England's or even old land's cotton trade is but in its infancy compared with the industry in India. "For what are 300 years ago 3,000?" says a writer. "Fabrics as as any that can be turned out at present day by the most perfect chinery in Lancashire were produced by the nimble fingers of Hindu spinners and the primitive looms of India weavers a thousand years before the invasion of Britain by the Romans. When Britons were shivering in the wood, in fact, the Hindus were gliding in garments of a texture so fine to have earned the poetic description of 'woven wind'."

BLACK SILK
LIQUID OR PASTE
STOVE POLISH

Keeps Your Stove Always Ready for Company

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny—unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used. Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish once as often, yet your stove will be newer, brighter and better looking than has been since you first bought it. Use

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

For parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove. It can be used on your hardware or stove dealer. You have used before, your dealer is anxious to refund your money. But we feel you will agree with the thousands of other people who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind. Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove top bright and free from rusting by using Black Silk Stove Polish. It works quickly, safely, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no acid in it and is safe for use on automobiles.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save your hair! Make it grow luxuriant and beautiful

If you care for heavy hair, that glimmers with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

PUT CHECK UPON PRIVATE SERVICE

The Industrial Commission Adopts Rule to Keep Employment Bureau Men in Service

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Following the resignation of one of its deputies in the free employment service, to accept service with a large mining corporation which has had serious labor trouble, the industrial commission of Wisconsin has adopted a rule which is designed to prevent the application of expert knowledge gained in the state service, for private benefit. The rule, according to the commission, was adopted solely to maintain the confidence of workingmen and employers in the state free employment offices which are maintained by the state for the purpose of bringing together the employer who wants help and the working man who wants a job.

The industrial commission's new rule requires deputies in the free employment service to agree not to accept similar service with private employers having labor troubles or with private employment agencies, for a period of six months after leaving the service of the state.

"The position of the commission," said Chairman C. H. Crownhart, "is in line with good public policy and official ethics and is intended to enhance the value of the state free employment offices."

The commission's action is a result of the resignation of Superintendent E. M. Phelps of the state employment office at Superior, to accept a position with the Calumet & Heckla Copper Mining company in the Michigan copper district. For several months the company has been having trouble with its 11,000 employees over the wage question. Thousands of the miners have been on strike and the company has refused repeatedly to negotiate with them or to accept arbitration. It is said to be the present intention of the copper trust to open an employment department of its own. Every present or prospective employee will be listed. It is unlikely that many of the strikers will be listed favorably. Foremen and superintendents will not be permitted to hire men unless the prospective employees receive the O. K. of the head of the new employment department.

SPOTLIGHTS

NOVEL BABY SHOW

All the fond mothers of La Crosse are invited to attend the La Crosse theater on next Saturday afternoon only with their "babies" and after the last act of "A Girl's Devotion," the mothers will step upon the stage and the audience will judge by applause the "fatest baby," the "prettiest baby" and the "smallest baby," and cash prizes will be given the proud mothers.

The last performance of "Lena Rivers" will be given tonight, the stock company will rest on Wednesday night on account of "Officer 666," but will reopen on Thursday afternoon, presenting for the balance of the week, "A Girl's Devotion." New and different amateur stunts will be given on Friday night.

Good seats should be reserved early in advance to avoid "standing up."

OFFICER 666

The most irresistible "peeler" that ever swung a night stick, in a better detective play than ever came out of France is "Officer 666," a play that has scored the most definite success both in New York and Chicago recorded on the theatrical record for years.

Everyone to whom the show world appeals will want to see this splendid play which is announced for local production at the La Crosse theater Wednesday, October 15, matinee and night.

"Officer 666" is a sort of prophylactic, good in a dramatic way for that tired feeling.

"Officer 666" is a melodramatic farce with a word plot of laughs and thrills that is shot out with a rapidity of a Hotchkiss field piece storming an enemy's entrenchment. And the audience that it attracts! My goodness, how they enjoy it! The stout ones chortle over the swift fun or gasp at the thrill punctuations. The matinee girls are intensely interested in the handsome picture puffer, who, they hope, will get away with the swag, and when that prince of scamps is

Bad Complexions Are Now Easily Discarded

(From the Beauty Seeker.)

Every woman has it in her own hands to possess a beautiful and youthful complexion. No matter how soiled, faded or coarse the cuticle, ordinary mercolized wax will actually remove it, and Nature will substitute a skin as soft, clear and lovely as a child's. The action of the wax is not drastic, but gentle and agreeable. Minute particles of sear skin come off day by day, yet no evidence of the treatment is discernible, other than the gradual complexional improvement. One ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store, suffices for most cases. It is put on at bedtime like cold cream and taken off in the morning with warm water. It is a certain method of discarding freckles, liver spots, moth patches, blackheads and pimples.

SAYS HATCHERY SPOILED LANDS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—Geo. Apfelbacher of Delafield has brought suit against the state for $20,000 damages for the flooding of his lands by the waters of the state fish hatchery. In another suit, a corollary to the first, he asks the court to prohibit the opening of the dams near Lake Nagawicka, which are used to supply water for the hatchery. Apfelbacher attempted to bring suit last year but was frustrated because of a constitutional provision prohibiting private parties from suing the state. He then presented a claim to the legislature for $20,000. This was disallowed. The legislature, however, gave him permission to begin suit against the state to determine his rights.

SOX COP TITLE BY GRABBING SIXTH

The White-hosed Sluggers Knock Out 5 to 2 Victory for the City Flag

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—The White Sox won the city championship yesterday defeating the Cubs in the sixth game of the series by a score of 5 to 2.

The southsiders' hitting featured the contest. Humphries lasted until the fourth inning when Lord's base on balls, Chase's single, another hit by Collins and Fournier's double into the crowd netted three runs. Lavendar, who took up the burden in the fifth, shared but little better, being greeted in that inning with a fusillade good for two more tallies. The Nationals scored in the ninth when Scott eased up after two were out. The series resulted four game to two in favor of the Sox.

The Cubs were the first to find their way around the circuit. Evers led off with a single in the fourth inning and he advanced to second when Schulte hit to Scott and was thrown out. With Zimmerman up a run seemed certain, but the great Zim fanned. Saier came through with a single over first, Evers going to third. On an attempted double steal, Evers counted. Weaver attempted to trap Saier on the line to second but fumbled the ball.

Hits by Collins and Fournier practically gave the Sox the city championship in their half of the fourth. Lord drew a pass to start with. Chase dropped a Texas leaguer into left. Bodie attempted to sacrifice, but Lord was forced at third. A single by Collins sent Chase home from second. Bodie went to third on the throw to the plate. A double by Fournier drove in Bodie and Collins.

Two more runs were put over by the Sox in the fifth. Lavendar succeeded Humphries in the pit for the Cubs. Scott, first up, was thrown out by Lavendar. Weaver hit to Evers and was bagged at first. Then Lord rapped a double into the crowd. A single by Chase helped Lord to headquarters. Chase raced to second on the throw-in. Bodie dumped a fly into center and the ball rolled away, giving Bodie a two-bagger. Chase tallied on this blow. Collins ended the round by hitting to Lavendar.

The Cubs made their second and last score in the ninth round. Saier beat out a hit to Chase and then Bridwell and Archer singled in turn and Saier counted. The score:

Cubs000100001—2 9 1
White Sox00032000x—5 11 0
Batteries: Humphries, Lavendar and Archer; Scott and Schaik.

CELLARITES' PLAY ENDS IN BATTLE

St. Louis Series for Tail-end Championship Is Called Off After Scrap

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 14.—Winter baseball fans will have to settle the question as to which is the worst team in the major leagues. The Cardinal-Brown series, for the "cellar" championship, was called off yesterday because of a fight in the fourth inning. O'Leary knocked a roller along the first base line which was deflected by Pratt, who stumbled and fell. Pratt, thinking the ball was a foul, failed to throw it, and when he heard the umpire call it a fair ball he rushed to the plate to protest.

While Pratt was arguing with Umpire Hildebrand, Beck of the Cardinals yelled something at Pratt which turned and ran to the player's bench, striking Beck a stiff blow. The police interfered and Pratt was banished while the fans swarmed the field, threatening to take sides. The police finally drove back the crowd and play was resumed. The Cardinals won the game to 2, evening up the series at three all.

The second game went five innings and was called on account of darkness with the score tied 1 to 1. Following the calling of the second game managers of both teams decided it would be best to call off the series because of the hard feelings resulting from the fight. Score: R H E Browns000000020—2 5 2 Cardinals10020101x—5 7 2 Batteries: Baumgardner, Taylor, Leverenz and Agnew; Harmon and Snyder.

JUSTICE SIEBECKER ILL

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—Justice R. G. Siebecker of the Wisconsin supreme court is confined to his home with acute indigestion, and has been unable to sit with the court at the session which opened last Tuesday. His condition has thus far given no cause for alarm, although his illness has continued for a week.

STATE GETS FUNDS LEFT BY PRISONERS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 13.—From $341 to $562 a year is turned over to the state treasury as unclaimed money by prisoners and inmates of the charitable and penal institutions of the state. Convicts at Waupun are paid an extra amount for overtime work, varying from one to fifteen cents an hour. This money is placed to their credit. It often happens, however, that convicts die leaving no relatives to claim their earnings. The state board of control annually gathers up these amounts, varying from a few cents to ten or fifteen dollars, and after making a record so that sums may be returned if later demanded, deposits the aggregate in the general fund of the state.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Princeton coaches were convinced today that they would have to rely on Captain Baker and Merritt to do the kicking for the Tigers. They tried out Lambertson, a new candidate for end, but his efforts fell short of the kicks of the two regulars.

EX-CHAMPS MEET IN FEEBLE BATTLE

Ad Has Bat Faded but Shows Little Class; Nel has Nothing But Gameness

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 14.—Fighting futilely against the weight of years, Ad Wolgast and Battling Nelson, former lightweight kings, went to the mat for the count and were enrolled beyond all shadow of doubt as "has beens." That was the only conclusion to be reached after the meeting of the former champions.

A little less than four years ago Ad Wolgast wrestled the title from the Dane at Port Richmond, Cal., after what was probably the hardest, bloodiest and bitterest light-weight battle in pugilism's history. Last night the battered hulk that was a champion did battle with a one-time top notcher who is just getting a good start on the soapy skids.

Wolgast won by a wide margin, but in winning demonstrated that whatever hope he may have of wearing the championship laurel again is but dust and ashes. He might last four rounds with Ritchie, but it was the consensus of opinion that Charlie White could fight both last night's combatants, the same night, at one time and win easily.

Groomed like a derby winner and fighting with veteran caution, he was far from a champion. His footwork was slow, his judgment of distance very bad and for all his good looks he lacked the steam to put on out even a broken reed like the Dane.

Bat was pitiful. His hardest fight was to convince himself he was still there with the "old stuff." Time and again he called on the old fighting to slip over a knockout wallop and it always failed him. Wolgast's guard was as nor plate against Bat's feeble broadsides and all the Dane could summon was all that old time gameness, and the same fighting face. Through ten rounds he took a mighty healthy beating and smiled in apology for growing old.

UMPIRE IS TARGET

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 14.—Umpire Bob Emslie said today he might officiate at another Pirates-Naps contest if offered a fat accident policy. Emslie was hit four times in yesterday's game. First a bat slipped and tried to wind about his legs. Then at close intervals three foul tips caught him on the mask. One of these struck so hard that his scalp was cut just above the temple. He won applause by cramming a physician's bandage beneath the mask without unrolling it and going on with the game.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Charles Brickley, Harvard's fast ball and star kicker returned to the up today for practice and with other regulars went through a work-out.

Brickley has been bothered by hip, but an X-ray examination showed that nothing serious was wrong.

A record breaking number of applications for the Yale-Harvard other games here are being received by the athletic association.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—Secret practice is now the order of the Yale football squad. Coach Jones believes the team is enough along in its work to take a series of new plays and today the men through a fast scrim practice after drawing up several new formations. The team may behind closed gates for the rest of the season.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Scrimmage practice of the Army resumed today after a let up yesterday when the team was given a board drill. In addition to pointing out where the team failed to make plays against Rutgers proper Coach Daily explained new formations which were practiced today.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Coach St. today closed the gates at the University of Chicago field and prepared to send the Maroons through a gruelling work in preparation for the Iowa game on Saturday. St. is not satisfied at the way the Maroons have been stacking up against their first year men this week.

ENLARGE FARM LIBRARY AT “U”

Is Second in Size and Value
Only to the Federal Library at Washington

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—With the completion of buildings and additions now in the process of construction, the equipment of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture will be equal to that of any agricultural institution in this country.

The agricultural library, second in size and value only to that of the United States department of agriculture at Washington, will soon be housed in a fire proof structure offering the possibility of almost indefinite expansion. Facilities for all lines of agricultural chemistry will be provided in the agricultural chemistry building which will be ready for occupancy before the close of the present term. In addition, this structure will accommodate the department of forestry and the feed and fertilizer inspection service. A large auditorium has been added to this building to accommodate the large short course classes.

The department of home economics, established four years ago, has already outgrown its present quarters and will, as soon as possible be transferred to the extension building immediately east of agricultural hall.

The hog cholera serum plant is being enlarged to accommodate a herd of 50 hogs and to have a capacity depending upon the available supply of suitable animals of from 60,000 to 70,000 cubic centimeters of vaccine per week. The new hog barn, while in no way elaborate, will provide comfortable, excellently lighted, and equally well ventilated quarters for the breeding herds which have gradually been built up upon the university farm.

Danger of Knowing Too Much.
Let us remember, advises a medical magazine, that a brain crammed with a multitude of useless facts may show up brilliantly on an examination, but be so clogged as to be unable to put the knowledge to practical use. We know we are raising the pedagogues’ ire by thus stating that there is such a thing as too much knowledge, but as a fact the world’s work is being done by specialists who are densely ignorant of everything outside their respective narrow spheres—and of many things inside, too.

Don't Worry.
Doctor: “Now, don’t worry, whatever you do; a man with heart disease can’t afford to worry. Avoid all company of any kind, drink nothing whatsoever, and on no account touch meat and vegetables. By the by, I won’t be able to call till Wednesday, as I have to attend the funerals of three patients.”

Father’s Inconsistency.
Father will splash around in two feet of water and ruin a suit of clothes to save articles in a stranger’s house during a 30-cent fire. But if the pan under the ice-box flows over he will go upstairs and wake mother so she can come down and mop it up.

Readstown was destroyed by the terrific wind and Folsom, Elk Run and West Prairie were also affected. In Ross few tobacco sheds were left standing and nearly all of the out-buildings on some of the farms were blown over or blown away. Haystacks were blown down and the valuable crops of tobacco which had been stored in sheds were destroyed.
The loss of some farmers was about $2,000 while the total loss ran up in the millions. Mr. Lyle Tate, one of the mail carriers on the rural routes, went into a shed where he saw the storm coming but was covered by debris when the wind blew the building over. Three ribs were broken and he was bruised about the head.

Sunday, as the La Crosse and Southeastern train was returning to the city, it ran down and killed an old gentleman named Everson, a short distance this side of Chaseburg. The engineer saw the man walking on the track and gave the alarm. As the pedestrian did not get off from the track the engine the

It is now such an easy matter to he was not going to get out of the way of the oncoming locomotive it was to near and to late to avoid the calamity that followed. The leg was severed at the groin, the member lay between the rails and the body outside. The train was stopped and the train crew and passengers viewed the greswome sight.

The body was left as it lay while the train came on into the city. A coroner's jury was summoned by District Attorney Bennett and the party was hurried to the scene of the accident. The jury returned a verdict of accidental killing, according to the facts. Everson was on his way to church and doubtless had walked the track there many times before. He evidently thought that the train was not due or that it he passed and his deafness prevented his hearing the warning given by the engineer's whistle.

EXPECTS BALLOON RECORD

PARIS, Oct. 14.—A new world's record for spherical balloons was predicted today by officials of the French Aero club. At four o'clock this afternoon they had received no word from any of the ten pilots that started yesterday in the international balloon race for the Gordon Bennett cup. Weather conditions today are ideal for long flights.

His Biblical Knowledge Slight.

Whatever qualifications the newly-elected judge possessed, Biblical knowledge was not his most conspicuous. An attorney went to his court to plead for a girl who was to be sent to the juvenile court for a misdeed. “This is the little girl's first offense,” pleaded the attorney, “and I don't think she ought to be punished. Even Mary Magdalen was pardoned.” “Mary Magdalen,” said the judge, “I don't remember that case. Clerk, bring me the files in the Magdalen case.”

SAY DRINKING IS DECLINING AT "U"

Professors Declare Keg Parties Are Rare and that Drinking Students Are Few

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—According to an expression of faculty opinion, the use of liquor by students at the University of Wisconsin is declining. A recent reportorial estimate that $20,000 is spent annually for alcoholic drinks led university heads to give contrary views. Each believed the money thus spent is divided among a comparatively small number of students.

President Van Hise said the author of the statement gave no facts to support it and that an investigation would undoubtedly show it to be exaggerated.

Prof. F. W. Roe, chairman of the student interests committee, said that excessive drinking is on the decrease, and that keg parties are becoming rare. Rev. E. W. Blake, Methodist university pastor, said the use of liquor has decreased much in the last five years as a result of national and local agitation, and that the sight of kegs stacked on the lower campus no more greets students on the way to morning classes. Prof. F. G. Hubbard, chairman of the faculty discipline committee, declared there is less drinking at Wisconsin than in any other student community of its size in the country. He thought there is a larger consumption of beer than a few years ago but less drunkenness. Prof. J. E. Olson, Prof. Louis Kahlenberg, Dr. J. C. Elson and Dean H. L. Russell thought that the situation is not as bad as reported.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

Professor Bassett of the University of Wisconsin inspected the Prairie du Chien high school on Friday. He reported most favorably, but found the high school too crowded for the most efficient work.

Mr. Leonard Jeglum, the new editor of the Union, which has been published for many years under the able editorship of Mr. I. D. Hurlbut, has assumed his new duties and sent out his first paper on Thursday.

Miss Lilah E. Keyser, the English instructor in the high school, is spending the week-end with her parents in Prairie du Chien.

Peter Burns transacted business at Gays Mill on Wednesday.

Mrs. M. Runkel visited her sister, Mrs. Lawless, in Wauzeka, on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. F. H. Poehler attended the Gays Mill fair and was accompanied on her return by her sister, Mrs. Loomis, who remained in Prairie du Chien until Wednesday.

Mrs. Archibald Webster of Rushford, Minn., is home for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Keller.

Mrs. Max Cardin returned Wednesday from a visit with relatives at Lansing, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaacson left Wednesday for their home in Madison. Mr. Isaacson has been at the Prairie du Chien sanitarium, where he has submitted to a second amputation of his legs.

Mrs. Bennett of Fennimore, the demonstrator for the Gossard Corset company, has been at Mrs. Fred Everts' for the past week.

Miss Violet Rice, the second ward primary teacher, spent Saturday and Sunday in La Crosse.

Miss Agnes Pinkerton, who is teaching in the kindergarten at Richland Center, spent Saturday with her

The first Lyceum program for this school year was given in the high school on Friday evening. The opening number was an address of welcome, Alfred Lechner. Music was furnished by the school and by a double quartet. The program was concluded with a dramatization of Louise Alcott's famous book, "Little Women." The most noteworthy number, however, was a short but interesting address by Prof. Bassett, setting forth the things which he had found commendable in the high school during his inspection, and pointing out the need for a larger teaching force and more room in which to accommodate a growing school.

The Episcopal Ladies' guild will meet at the guild hall on Wednesday, October 15.

Friday evening a small dancing party was given by some of the

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clears, Sneezing and Nose Running Cease, Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat the nostrils; penetrates and soothes the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head, throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuff, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous droppings from the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—"Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

"SPUD SPECIAL" TO BOOST TUBER

Train Will Open Its Season
October 24 at Spooner and Then Tour
Up-state

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—A campaign intended to encourage the raising of more and better potatoes will be started at Spooner on October 24, when a "potato special" will be equipped for a two weeks' tour on the Omaha and Northwestern lines in upper Wisconsin.

The first meeting will be held at Spooner on the day immediately following the equipment of the train. During the week of October 27, the train will be moved over the Omaha lines and meetings will be held at the following points: Ashland, Hayward, Minong, Shell Lake, Rice Lake, Chetek, Bloomer and Eau Claire. The car will be delivered to the Northwestern line at Omaha and stops will be made the following week at Eagle River, Crandon, Elcho, Antigo, Mattoon, Shawano, Laona, Wabeno and Rhinelander. The train will be in charge of James G. Milard, secretary of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association, and the railroad officials co-operating in the movement.

Ferocity of the Rabbit.
A correspondent from Falkingham (Lincolnshire) sends an account of a fight between a hare and a cat. He saw the cat attack a young hare. The cat, however, came to the rescue and, jumping on the cat, fought it for some minutes. The fight ended by the cat taking flight and being chased by the hare.—Pall Mall Gazette.

SEPARATION SUIT ATTRACTS NOTICE

Mrs. Raymond Belmont.

The suit for separation brought by Mrs. Raymond Belmont, known on the stage as Ethel Lorraine, has been set for trial in New York Monday. It was instituted shortly after the youthful husband, who is the son of August Belmont, left his wife last spring.

Young Belmont admits that he married the show girl, and the sole question to be determined at the trial will be the amount of the allowance.

TUG THOUGHT LOST THIRTEEN MEN DIE

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 14.—Sixteen men are believed to have perished on the Hudson Bay company's tug Primrose, which plied the route between Chippewa and Fond du Lac on Lake Athabasca, and has been missing twenty-five days. The Primrose left Fort Chippewa for Fond du Lac September 17 and nothing has been heard from her since. There is little travel on Lake Athabasca and some report may reach here of the lost tug.

Printer's Slight Error.

An organist had drawn up the order of a Sunday service, and it was in type ready for printing when the death of an important personage made a change necessary. The organist telephoned to the printer and instructed him to change the postlude to "Funeral March by Chopin." This is what he found at the end of the list when he arrived at the church: "A few remarks by Chopin."

The remains were sent to West Union this morning where the funeral services and burial will take place.

AVIATOR IS LOST WIRELESS IN HUNT

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—With friends who sought in every way to comfort her, Mrs. Albert J. Jewell hoped against hope today that a telephone message might come telling her that her husband, the aviator, apparently lost in the clouds yesterday, had been found. Wireless stations snapped out appeals to incoming ships today to watch for the aviator, motorboats searched the waters of Jamaica bay and automobile parties scoured the lonely sections of Long Island.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 14.—An aeroplane, believed to be the one in which Albert J. Jewell started from Hempstead Plains, L. I., yesterday afternoon for Staten Island and has been missing for the past 24 hours, was seen floating down the Hackensack river shortly after 11 o'clock today. The reserves of Communipaw have gone to investigate.

MOTOR RACER IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Careful examination yesterday of Fred L. French, motorcycle rider who was injured in a race at the fair grounds track Sunday, disclosed that his injuries were much more serious than at first reported. Mr. French had the muscles of his right arm near the shoulder torn loose from the bone, and the bone itself is grooved. He also lost a part of his right heel. His injuries, while serious, are not fatal, it was said today.

INDIAN TRADER OF CITY IS DEAD

John Peterson Who Once Saved Town from Massacre Dies at Age of 81 in Minneapolis

John Peterson, aged 81 years, a pioneer resident and Indian trader of La Crosse, died yesterday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock at the home of his son, J. A. Peterson, Minneapolis. His death was caused by the third attack of heart trouble within two years.

Mr. Peterson was born in Sweden March 9, 1833. He came to America in 1856, and came direct to La Crosse, where he established one of the first trading establishments in the village. By fair dealing he became a trusted friend of the Indians, and shortly after the civil war he saved the town from a possible Indian massacre by his influence.

A number of redskins were camped on Barron's Island and had been imbibing up to the point where they contemplated an attack on the whites. They were holding a war dance in full war paint when "Pedes," as Mr. Peterson was called by the Indians, paddled over alone in a canoe and persuaded them not to attack the town.

Mr. Peterson was also connected with lumber and fuel interests in the city.

He retired seven years ago and with his aged wife lived at the home of their daughter, Mrs. D. P. Howard, 718 Ferry street. Upon the death of Mrs. Howard in July, 1912, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson moved to Holdrege, Neb., taking up their residence with another daughter, Mrs. G. Abrahamson. Mrs. Peterson died August 8, this year, and since that time Mr. Peterson has made his home with his son in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Peterson is survived by two sons and one daughter, W. F. Peterson, Chicago; J. A. Peterson, Minneapolis, and Mrs. Abrahamson.

The body arrived in La Crosse at noon today and the funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of W. L. Tetley & Son, and at 2:30 from the Norwegian Lutheran church, Sixth and Division streets. Rev. H. G. Magleson will officiate. Mr. Peterson will be buried beside his wife in Oak Grove cemetery.

Stovall has been offered the managership of the Kansas City Federal club. Konetchy is wanted for the star attraction of the St. Louis Terriers.

FAKE NICKELS GOOD

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 14.—Counterfeit "buffalo nickels" are being turned out somewhere in southern Illinois at the rate of 1,000 a day, according to announcement today by government agents. These counterfeit nickels are so near perfect that they almost defy detection.

The Letter M.

The Hebrew name of M was Mem, water, and it is curious to note that the original form of this character in the most ancient manuscript is a wavy line, which to the not too particular ancients represented water. By some philologists the letter M as used by the Phoenicians is supposed to have come from a picture representing the human face, the two down strokes representing the contour of the countenance, the V stroke signifying the nose, the two dots, long since disused, and a stroke beneath the V representing the eyes and the mouth. The old Phoenician form of the letter does indeed bear a comical sort of resemblance to the human face.

Turning a Tight Screw.

Any one who has attempted to remove a very tight screw knows what a very difficult business it is. After straining and twisting for a considerable time the operator frequently ends by losing his temper and destroying the bite of the screw, which remains fixed as tightly as ever. With the aid of a pair of pinchers, however, the affair is quite a simple one. Place the screwdriver in position and then catch hold of the blade with the pinchers just above the head of the screw. Press the screwdriver firmly and at the same time twist round the blade with the pinchers. The tightest screw will yield immediately to this sort of persuasion.

KING OF THUNDER SIGNS FOR LICENSE

Old guy Thor is in our midst. Incidentally he prefers to designate himself by the element he was supposed to have ruled for, he now signs himself King of Thunder. Don't cha believe it? Go to the county clerk's office and take a squint at the application for hunting license filed by Chief Julius White Eagle, Winnebago Indian, who lives at Midway. One of White Eagle's fellow tribesmen is the witness to the authenticity of the application, and his John Hancock reads "King of Thunder."

OFFER CONCESSION TO GOV. SULZER

The Prosecution Attorney Would Reopen Case for Him to Take Stand Himself

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 14.—An offer to reopen the entire Sulzer case and to permit Gov. Sulzer to take the stand in person, or to introduce witnesses to refute the testimony of Duncan W. Peck and Henry Morgenthau, electrified the impeachment court today.

It came from John B. Stanchfield, counsel for the impeachment managers. In making it, he asked the court to amend the articles of impeachment so as to make pertinent the testimony of these two witnesses. He claimed that the court had that power.

His offer was characterized by Mr. Louis Marshall, for Governor Sulzer as "a plea in bankruptcy." He declared that the state's case had fallen of its own weight. Argument on the question was still in progress when the luncheon recess was ordered.

Late this afternoon it was reported that the anti-Sulzer forces had decided to vote down the suggestion that the impeachment articles be referred back to the assembly for amendment. The report declared that during recess, a count developed that there were enough votes to confirm the impeachment of the governor on at least a majority of the articles and to remove him from office. The program, it was said, was to affirm the sufficiency of the Morgenthau and Peck evidence and then to force a general vote on the eight articles, probably by tomorrow.

In the rumpus at Albany, it may have been noticed, Acting Governor Glynn isn't hurling any defis at Tammany.

SPARTA PAVING STILL INCOMPLETE

SPARTA, Wis., Oct. 14.—The paving on Montgomery street will not be finished this fall owing to the cold weather coming on and the falling leaves. The contractor, Wooley, believes that the frost may injure the asphalt and the leaves flying about would get into the soft asphalt and thereby cause a flaw. The street will soon be opened to traffic and the contractor guarantees there will be no injury to the concrete base on which the asphalt is to be placed.

be placed. The curb and gutter on Franklin street between Spring and Chester streets will be put in this fall and the concrete base may also be put in. The part of Franklin street between Spring and Water streets will not be started until next spring. Last spring it was hoped that all this paving would be done but on account of the opposition to the bonding proposition it was delayed.

S. G. IVERSON IS OUT FOR GOVERNOR

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 14.—Samuel G. Iverson, serving his third term as state auditor, Monday announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor. While the gubernatorial race has been busy in Iverson's bonnet for some time, such an early announcement was not anticipated even by some of his friends.

His Opinion.
"With the corset slaying women by the hundreds and the Rum Demon mowing down men like a pestilence," remarked the erratic thinker, "it is strange that there are still plenty of the former always ahead of you at the general delivery window at the postoffice, and an overabundance of the latter who need $10 till the first of the month."—Judge.

BRING BUSCH BODY BACK

BREMERHAVEN, Germany, Oct. 14.—Relatives today took the body of Adolphus Busch, multi-millionaire brewer of St. Louis, to New York on the Kron Prinz Wilhelm. Busch died last Friday at Wiesbaden, his German home. August Busch, his son, the widow and other relatives accompanied the body aboard the liner which sailed at 8 a. m. She is due at New York on Oct. 21.

BREAKS A GOLD IN A FEW HOURS

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all gripe misery.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only 25 cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.

WILL LAY TRACKS IN SOLID CEMENT

Street Car Traffic Across Mill Street Blocked by Work Begun Today

Work was started this morning on the relaying of the tracks of the street car company and the Milwaukee railroad company crossing Mill street.

A gang of thirty men are employed on the work. Street car traffic is blocked on Mill street, passengers having to leave the car on one side of the crossing to transfer to another car.

The relaying of the tracks has caused the rumor to spread on the north side that the building of a viaduct crossing the tracks will be delayed.

The Mill street crossing is one of the busiest parts of the north side yards, and the frequent train traffic has caused the tracks to sink, until they became dangerous.

For several feet on each side of the street car tracks, the tracks have been torn up and concrete will be laid, to endure a solid foundation. The work will consume several days' time.

After the Refund.
A druggist's bell rang loudly in the small hours, and when he went down he was met by a placid man who asked for a bottle of soda water. The druggist's feelings were strong, but he resolved to do business: "Ten cents extra for the bottle," said he, "will be allowed on return." And he went back to bed. Two hours later the night bell rang again. Again the druggist went down. Again he was met by the placid man. "There's your bottle," said he, "gimme my ten cents."

Had Once Held High Office.
A prime minister died recently in St. Gabriel Wood's Mariner's asylum, Greenock, Scotland, in the person of a man named Malcolm Buchanan, seventy-six. Buchanan, a member of a family of 17, became a sailor early in life. One of a few survivors of a wreck on an island in the South Seas, he greatly impressed the native chief, who made him prime minister and gave him many wives and servants. He was offered a permanent home on the island but left by the first ship that touched there.

Hardly Probable.
There is not much chance that a spinster who becomes really attached to a parrot will ever marry. She could not possibly find a man who would try to look and talk like that.

Had Them Placed.

True Happiness.

What a Child Needs Most.
It is not, after all, a smattering of chemistry or an acquaintance with the habits of bees which will carry our children through life, but a capacity for doing what they do not want to do, if it be a thing which needs to be done. They will have to do many things they do not want to do later on, if their lives are going to be worth the living, and the sooner they learn to stand to their guns the better for them and for all those whose welfare will be in their hands.—Agnes Repplier in Atlantic Monthly.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Theresa Konop was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening at her home, 1518 South Ninth street, the occasion being her fifteenth birthday.

The evening was spent in playing games and dancing, music being furnished by Messrs. Bert Williams, John Fuchs, Howard "Lefty" Langhorst and August Spika.

Those present were: Misses Alice Martin, Anna Roubik, Bobbie Jansky, Emma Shedesky, Rose Spika, Lillian Spika, Cecelle Tikal, Elizabeth Pascal and Marie and Theresa Konop; Messrs. Charles Beranek, August Spika, Bert, William, Howard and Dewey Langhorst, Wenzel Wais, John Fuchs, Albert Cuta, Laddie Tykal, Joseph Papacek, and Ambrose Buntlye. A midnight luncheon was served. The hostess was presented with a beautiful signet ring.

ENTERTAINS FOR GUEST

Miss Agnes Erickson entertained Saturday evening in honor of her cousin, Miss Mathilda Erickson of Minneapolis, who is visiting her. There were twenty-four guests.

Miss Ruth Pederson entertained at a chafing dish spread Monday evening in honor of Miss Erickson. The guests were Misses Nora Nelson, Alice Mockley, Mathilda Erickson, Edna Haller, Lenora Fritz, Ida Gillies, Wenzel, Agnes Erickson and Ruth Pederson.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Peter Hofweber was hostess yesterday at a six o'clock dinner, the occasion being the second birthday of her little son Robert John. The decorations consisted of bright hued autumn flowers, one of the features being the birthday cake which was centered with two tiny candles. The little guest of honor received many beautiful gifts.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

The league of St. Paul's Universalist church will be entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. McVane and Mrs. George Longbrake at the parsonage. Christmas work will begun and all are requested to come prepared with necessary articles and also to come at an early hour.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Morse of Wheeling, W. Va., are in town for a few days.

Mrs. Ellis B. Usher of Milwaukee is the guest of Miss Nannie Colwell during the D. A. R. conference.

Mrs. R. D. Sprague of Caledonia, Minn., and Miss Maud Williams of Lake Mills, Iowa, are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Collieran.

The Doctor at Sea.

A veteran naval surgeon, speaking of the odd things that crop out in the service, said that one of the younger medical cranks in the navy discovered much virtue in sea water, and, no matter what disease came on, his first action was to throw down the patient's throat a large dose of the nauseating liquid. The crew soon learned to hate him thoroughly. In process of time he fell overboard in a choppy sea, and a great bustle ensued. In the midst of it the captain came up and anxiously inquired the cause. "Oh, nothing, sir," replied a tar, "only the doctor has fell into his medicine chest."—London Telegraph.

For Worn Books.

The most beautiful books are bound with leather. If in constant use the calf or morocco soon becomes worn. To remedy this condition use equal quantities of white of egg and water beaten together. BOTH GET BURGLARS

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Returning early today from a dinner dance, Mrs. John Edward Simmons discovered a burglar in her bedroom while her husband was downstairs.

"Oh, John," she shouted, after flooring the man with a couple of healthy swats, "I've got a burglar!"

"So have I!" responded Mr. Simmons, out of breath, "bring yours down."

While Mrs. Simmons guarded the two captives with a revolver, Simmons telephoned for the police.

Comfort for Night Workers.

In one of the New York hotels a floor is arranged for the use of those who work at night and sleep during the day. The "Sleepy Sixteenth," as the floor is nicknamed, is run on an inverted table, with a separate staff, and its own restaurant, lift and telephone service. No one sleeping on this floor is called, except under special orders, until late in the day. Breakfast is served in the afternoon and the other meals are put back in the same way. All the routine work of cleaning and bedmaking is done after nightfall.

CITY OFFICIALS ON FALL OUTING

Former Democratic Lovefest Transformed Into a General Jollification; Republicans Welcome

Next Sunday has been decided upon as the date for the annual fall picnic of the city "Dads." Oehler's cave is the place and all day is the time.

Pursuant to the custom established last year, all city officials and invited guests will be welcome.

In the old days the fall picnic was a strictly democratic lovefest and only those of Jeffersonian faith were welcome at the banquet board.

Practically the entire council and all department heads have signified their intention of attending.

They will meet at Gund's brewery at eight o'clock in the morning and proceed to the picnic grounds. Politics will be "tabooed."

WHEN YOU SPEND A DOLLAR

Do You Stop To Consider What Part of it Stays At Home?

Accepting anything but La Crosse Made Goods is almost as bad as buying from a mail order house. The only good feature about it is the fact that the home merchant gets a profit when you buy from him. Patronizing the home merchant is a splendid step in the right direction, but when your home manufacturer can give you the same goods for less money or better goods for the same money, why not make your money do all the good possible for your home town by insisting that your merchant furnish you with La Crosse Made Goods.

MR. FARMER, WE HAVE A WORD TO SAY TO YOU

Do you know that La Crosse manufacturers make goods of as high a quality as can be found anywhere? The merchant in your home town will carry La Crosse Made Goods if you will ask for them. FARMERS CO-OPERATE IN STONE GRINDING

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—An experiment in co-operative grinding of limestone will be started this year near Fennimore in Grant county. A number of the farmers in that locality will co-operate in the work with representatives of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. A small portable machine which can readily be transported from farm to farm will be operated. Grant county soil is quite generally underlain with deep layers of almost pure limestone. While the upper stratum of the soil is acid, the immediately contiguous layer of limestone often has a very high content of carbonate and the lower strata, while of harder texture, are fully as rich in lime. In spite of outcroppings of limestone rock, the growing of legumes such as clover and alfalfa is practically an impossibility without generous inoculation and liming.

Drier, Too.

"Don't you love, Miss Sweet, to sit in the house on a stormy night, and hear the dreamy pattering of the rain on the roof?" lisped Mr. Muah. "Yes, indeed, I do. It is so much pleasanter than to sit outside in it."

Remedy for Stains.

For removing flower pot stains from the window sills, fine wood ashes are excellent.

WILL CONTEST THE AWARD OF BOARD

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—Claiming she is entitled to a death benefit of $2,000 instead of an award of $1,200, Mrs. Minnie Lawrence of Superior, filed notice with the attorney general today that she intends to contest the industrial commission's award in court. Attorney General Owen has ten days to file an answer, when the case will be noticed for trial in the Dane county circuit court upon its merits. Early in February Mrs. Lawrence was granted a divorce, with alimony of $25 a month for the support of herself and child. Ten weeks later her former husband was killed while in the employ of the Lake Superior Transit Railway company. In the commission's decision it was held the regular death benefit could not be allowed but that she should be paid alimony for four years. The suit is brought by William T. Crawford of Superior.

World's Strongest Wood.

An Australian wood called yate is said to be the strongest known and is imported for automobile construction.

Lowest Human Habitation.

The lowest human habitation is said to be that of the coal miners in Bohemia, some of whom make their dwellings at a point over 2,000 feet below the level of the sea.

HURRICANE KILLS ELEVEN PERSONS

Gale Sweeps the Alaskan Coast and Shore Is Strwn with the Wrecks of Ships

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 14.—That upwards of eleven persons drowned in the hurricanes which swept the Alaskan coast last week was the word brought here today by steamers. Three gasoline schooners are known to have been wrecked—the Nero, Princess and El Sueno. On the Nero were Herbert Guisler, his wife and three sons. Four corpses have been recovered. The Princess was smashed on Cape Prince of Wales, Charles Green and Martin Bramble perishing. El Sueno carried four persons all of whom drowned. The coast north of here is strewn with wreckage of small boats.

Little Profit in These Mines.

Some forty years ago considerable copper was mined and shipped out of San Fernando in the southern part of Lower California, but since then not much has been done with this metal. The principal difficulties in the way of the profitable mining of copper are fuel and transportation facilities. Iron deposits have been found at several places, the principal one being at San Isidro, but no active work has ever been done.

Obeing Instructions.

Jock McTavish had the misfortune to get arrested and sentenced. He was given a bucket of water, a brush and a cake of strong soap, and told to wash his cell. Some time later the jailor came through and saw McTavish giving himself a thorough scouring. "Here," he cried, "what are you doing? Didn't I tell you to wash your cell?" "Aye, an' am I no washin' msel?" asked the surprised McTavish.

Dangerous Pride.

Unfortunately, a proud spirit is always in danger of being mistaken for a bad disposition.—Puck.

Earliest Hunger Strike.

What was the date of the earliest hunger strike? In the second or third century of this era a Greek student wrote: "Theon to his father Theon, greeting. It was a fine thing of you not to take me with you to Alexandria. . . . Send me a lyre, I explore you. If you don't, I won't eat; I won't drink. There now!"

CHILDREN ADMIT SERIES OF CRIMES

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 14.—The arrest of eleven boys and girls, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years by the police brought light one of the most remarkable cases of thieving among children in the history of the local police. Confessions already obtained reveal that the children have been plotting and carrying out burglaries and robberies for months. Most of the children belong to well-known families.

STABBED FOURTEEN TIMES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 14.—As a result of an argument in a saloon early today Dominic Segneri, 26, is in the hospital suffering from fourteen knife wounds and Joseph Renaldi and Samuel Malquet are held by the police.

Weak Lungs Often Lead to Serious Illness

If you have weak lungs, you are generally subject to colds or throat trouble and easily susceptible to serious Lung Trouble. In many cases pneumonia or bronchial troubles leave the lungs in a much weakened condition. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine for the throat and lungs which has been found to be very beneficial, even when a change of climate and other treatments failed to bring relief. Read of this case:—231 S. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J.

"Gentlemen: In the fall of 1905 I contracted a very severe cold which settled on my lungs. At last I began to raise sputum, and my physician then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alternative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week in October. I began to improve, and the first week in January, 1906, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now seven years since my recovery has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alternative too highly."

Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stomach Colds and in rebuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit forming drugs. Sold by Geo. E. Mariner, Chas. E. Boyschlag and leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

EXPERTS WORK FOR PEA BLIGHT CURE

Carry On Series of Experiments for Method of Checking the Fungus

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—Plant experts of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture are working to find a means of controlling pea blight. This is one of the most damaging pests with which pea growers have to contend.

The investigators have been carrying on a series of experiments to prevent the spread of this fungus growth and if possible to eradicate it. R. E. Vaughan, detailed by the department of plant pathology to carry on this investigation, has lately gone to the Shaw Botanical gardens in St. Louis to avail himself of the best botanical library in this country, and its excellent laboratory facilities. Upon his return to Wisconsin, growers will be asked to make further field tests in accordance with his findings.

J. W. Brann, working co-operatively under the direction of the same department and the bureau of plant industry of the United States department of agriculture, will spend several months at Ithaca, N. Y., where are provided special facilities for the study of ginseng disease. Wisconsin ginseng growers are much concerned by the presence of root rot and leaf blight in their beds. It is greatly reducing the profits from their crops. Mr. Brann will return in the winter. These fungus growths are seriously menacing the ginseng industry of Wisconsin, particularly about Antigo in Langlade county. As this is perhaps the most important ginseng growing center in the United States it is highly important that investigation be carried on at this point.

Retort Courteous.

"My son Willie tells me that you threatened to box his ears yesterday, Miss Tooter," said the irate parent, calling upon the school mistress, "and I have come in to say to you that if you ever—" "Don't worry, Mr. Marrowfat," said Miss Tooter, graciously. "I'm not at all likely to do it. The janitor has been through all the department stores in town, and he can't find a box big enough for the purpose."—Harper's Weekly.

Again, it wouldn't be so bad for Governor Sulzer if he hadn't speculated on the wrong side of the market.

ASK U. S. TO END "THE MENACE"

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 14.—The Federation of German Catholic Societies, District No. 8 of Wisconsin, in convention here today, sent a petition to the federal authorities asking that the publication of the Menace, an anti-Catholic organ, be prohibited. A resolution addressed to the American press contained protest against the practice of the Rev. Hans Schmidt, murderer Anna Aumuller, a Roman Catholic priest. The resolution said Schmidt was no longer a priest.

The Home Beauty Parlor

By Betty Dean

Audrey: In these days of short sleeves and low necks it is vastly important what kind of whiteness you use. Ordinary face powders or talcum will not successfully hide the summer's tan and they won't stay on. The best way out of the dilemma is to get 4 ounces of spumax and mix in ½ pint of hot water; add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This is a splendid lotion for making the skin look fresh for a long time. It will not rub off like loose powder, and has a protecting effect on the skin of lasting benefit. It is very economical, too. For a fine wrinkle remover see answer to Miss Hazel.

Miss Helen L.: Weak eyes are not only a drawback to looks but neglecting them often leads to serious eye troubles. Dissolve an ounce of crystals in a pint of water. A few drops of this in each eye every day will strengthen your eyes and make them sparkling and brilliant. You do not say whether or not you wear glasses, but in any case this simple, inexpensive tonic will prove soothing and helpful as well as beautifying.

Mrs. Meadows: Your unhealthy hair seems to indicate that the hair follicles secrete too much oil and this will lead to dandruff and other hair troubles. You are wise to take it in time, and I strongly advise the use of the invaluable canthrox for a shampoo. Get a package at the drug-gist's, and mix a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This is plenty for a good washing, and will give you the effects of a fine treatment at a professional Beauty Parlor at small cost. Notice the fluffiness and silkiness of your hair afterwards. This is caused by the fact that canthrox gets rid immediately of the excess oil and all dirt and dandruff.

Phyllis Lee: Yes, there is always the danger of increasing flesh too fast when you once begin to take it. Perhaps it would be well to begin reducing now before you feel the fat a burden. Try this simple remedy—it will require no dieting or special exercise beyond sensible living. Get 4 ounces parnotis and dissolve it in 1½ pints water. Take a tablespoonful before meals. It is not

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The stock market opened active. Prices were lower.
11 a. m.—Selling pressure was lessened towards the end of the first hour and the market became comparatively dull. Stocks did not rally although close observers said there was evidence of good buying. American Can sold over rather easily and some of the room traders thought its decline might possibly mean the turning point in the general market.
Noon.—In the second hour the selling was more in the nature of raiding and hammering for stop orders.
2 p. m.—The market showed a tendency to sag.

Chicago Grain Review
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Sharply lower cable prices smashed the wheat market here today and futures were weak all forenoon after opening 1/2 to 3/4¢ lower. Northwest receipts were fairly large.
Corn started with a decline of 1/4¢ because of lower cables. A break at Buenos Ayres and general liquidation caused corn prices to droop abroad.
Oats went down at the start, the weakness in corn and wheat proving depressing factor. The early loss was 1/4¢ for each month and futures lost another quarter during the forenoon.
Provisions prices were steady, despite a slightly easier hog market. The decline continued in the afternoon, corn suffering a loss of 1/4¢ and oats futures dropping 3/4¢ for each month.
Provisions closed steady for pork,

AUTHORIZE 110 OF INSTITUTES

Board of Regents Plans a Number of Farmers' Meetings for the Fall

NAME FIVE MEN CONDUCTORS

Among Them Is H. D. Griswold of West Salem, E. E. Wyatt of Tomah Assistant

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—Authorization of 110 farmers' institutes in Wisconsin was made by the board of regents of the university in a recent session in Madison. The board also authorized a normal institute to be attended by all institute workers to be held at the college of agriculture from October 14 to October 17 for the special consideration of the winter's work. The board further approved a comprehensive report submitted by Dean Russell with reference to the organization of work under the special legislative acts made by the last legislature relating to studies on contagious abortion, organization of state soils laboratory and seed inspection service. The board appointed five conductors of farmers' institutes, five assistants, and six special workers.

The conductors are: W. C. Bradley of Hudson, David Imrie of Roberts, E. E. Wyatt of Tomah, W. P. Bussey of Omro, W. H. Clark of Rice Lake, Math Michels of Peebles.

The special workers are: L. E. Scott of Stanley, George W. Hackett of North Freedom, D. E. Bingham of Sturgeon Bay, Noyes Raessler of Beloit, W. H. Hanchett of Sparta, Julian Ries of Brookfield.

On account of the prevalence of hog cholera in the state provisions were made for special feature institutes to be held to spread knowledge of the best methods for control and eradication.

The regents also ordered special feature institutes on the subject of alfalfa.

Cooking School Conductors
Miss Edith L. Cliff and Miss Nellie Maxwell were appointed conductors of the 45 cooking schools which will be held by the college of agriculture.

The regents also authorized plans for the agricultural extension service for the holding of twelve farmers' courses, twelve schools and twenty bankers' pure bred seed methods.

A report was presented on the necessity of adequate plot areas in connection with the educational needs of the college of agriculture and the desirability of considering these problems in connection with the future development for athletics. Action upon this report was deferred until the next meeting when a joint meeting of the committees will be held for the consideration of the question.

The board instructed the soils department to require a deposit fee of $25 on the receipt of a petition asking for the preparation of preliminary plans for the organization of drainage districts. This fee will be included and assessed in the total cost of districts until such projects are finally consummated.

The board granted W. H. Peterson leave of absence the second semester and the following summer session without pay.

Frank Robotka was appointed assistant in agricultural economics for four months to carry on work on rural credits.

C. J. Noer was appointed analyst in the state soils laboratory for three months.

In his report today to the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin President Van Hise showed that $7,003,000 will be available for constructional development of the university in the next three years. Of this amount $71,000 is immediately available. On March 1, 1914, there will be available for educational buildings and equipment $282,000. On March 1, 1915, $300,000 will be available for student buildings and equipment.

The regents selected the site for the new physics building a position opposite the biology building and in the north of the court of honor. The department of physics will occupy the basement and two lower stories. The estimated cost of this building is in the neighborhood of $200,000, not including equipment. The regents authorized consultations between the university architect, the consulting architect, the business manager and the professors interested for the preparation of plans for this building.

The regents adopted the site for the men's dormitory the location originally designated by the architectural commission of 1908, which places the structure on the lake shore on the western port of the campus near agricultural hall. Plans will go forward rapidly as regards the character and arrangement of this building. The architect and the consulting architect were asked to suggest sites suitable for the location for the men's commons and union. It was also ordered that plans be completed for the addition to the soils building and to be presented to the board as early as possible.

DEAN OF STATE EDITORS IS DEAD

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 14.—A. T. Glaze, 84, Wisconsin's oldest editor, died at his home here yesterday. He came to this state from Ohio sixty-three years ago and helped put out the first editions of the Oshkosh Northwestern, the Fond du Lac Commonwealth, the Ripon Commonwealth, and the Marquette Mercury. He was connected with a score of papers throughout Wisconsin during his active career. For three years he has been a blind and helpless cripple.

Our Popular Songs.

If a young lady informed you in ordinary conversation that she was a yaller Zulu baby you wouldn't think much of her culture. But this language is all right set to ragtime music.—Pittsburgh Post.

WEST SALEM, WIS.

Mrs. Henry Kendrick entertained the Domino club Thursday afternoon at her home on Main street.

Mr. Tom Henry, an uncle of Mrs. McKee, of New Jersey, arrived Wednesday and is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McKee here.

The S. O. B. club met with Edna Sprain Saturday. Mesdames Fritz and Nichols entertained.

Mau's orchestra furnished music for the dance at Roberts' hall Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Lee are the proud parents of a son, born Sunday morning.

Mr. Clinton Griswold left this week for the east, where he will buy a carload of thoroughbred Guernsey cows.

Mrs. Matt Anderson, who died the first of the week at her home north of town, was buried Saturday at 2 o'clock, from the Norwegian Lutheran church. Rev. Otterson had charge of the services.

Mrs. M. C. Nichols of Viroqua has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Dudley, the past week.

Mrs. L. J. Martin of Viroqua is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nichols, this week.

Mr. Diefenthaler, who went west some time ago, is visiting his family here for a few days.

Mr. Palmer and Mrs. J. Anderson of Phoenix, Ariz., who were called here by the death of their mother, Mrs. Hendrickson, who was buried last Sunday, returned home the first of the week.

Mr. Matt Simonson, who purchased the Nye property some time ago, will move in from his farm in Larson Coulee November 1.

Mesdames Morris Roberts, Otto Hussa, Henry Fritz, Oscar Larsen, Adolph Kuehn and Harley Oakes entertained about a hundred ladies at a very pretty reception Friday evening at Roberts' hall. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers and autumn leaves. The Misses Helen and Hilma Kuehn presided at the punch stand. A delicious three course luncheon was served from 5 to 8. The orchestra rendered many beautiful selections and the Mesdames Guy Wakefield and Nichols each sang some very pretty solos. A very enjoyable time was reported by all.

The ladies that attended the house party at the home of Mrs. Youlen Elwell of New Lisbon, returned home Friday evening. All report a good time.

Mr. Roy C. Jones will sell at public auction Saturday, October 18, all of his farming implements and over fifty head of stock. Also a lot of grain and hay. The sale will begin at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Clarence Johnson of La Crosse came up Saturday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick.
